Cyprus Terror Flares

NICOSIA, Cyprus (Reuters) — Terrorists Friday night threw four grenades in a new outbreak of anti-British attacks following 16 dynamite blasts earlier in the day.

Unidentified assailants threw a hand grenade at the Nicosia home of a colonel of the British Middle East office, and then escaped. The office helps and advises Middle East governments on health and development projects.

The grenade exploded on a veranda outside the house. No one was injured.

Another grenade smashed windows on a bus carrying British Army families but failed to explode.

Two more explosions followed — both apparently directed at the homes of Britons.

DYNAMITE STATION

The most serious of the day's earlier dynamite attacks struck the Cyprus radio station, two miles south of here. The station building's south wing was gutted by fire, but the station went on the air 3½ hours ahead of schedule.

Smaller damage was caused at the Wolsely Barracks, just outside the ancient walls of Nicosia, where Gen. Sir Charles Keightley's British Middle East head quarters are housed.

There were also explosions at the ports of Famagusta, Larnaca and Limassol. All the attacks were directed against government, police and British military installations.

The attacks coincided with the preliminary trial at Paphos of 13 men charged with promoting civil war. The men, accused of smuggling explosives into Cyprus last January, were committed Friday for trial in a higher court on May 17

Look What's Waiting for Daddy

Cherie Lee Knox, a St. Patrick's Day baby, will see her daddy for the first time when HMCS Ontario ties up at HMC Dockyard at 10 a.m. today after a South Pacific cruise. Her mother, Anita Marie, will be there too, and her father, Reginald G. Knox, a cook, will be the only man aboard the cruiser to come home to a new baby. Relatives and friends of crew members and Venture cadets will be admitted to the dockyard. Parking space has been arranged on the parade square at HMCS Venture.

Pacts Alarm Pravda

MOSCOW (Reuters) — The Communist party newspaper Pravda says the possibility of preventing a third world war will grow more difficult as time passes.

The newspaper says in an editorial ratification of the Paris treaties to rearm West Germany "has brought changes in the international situation."

Fears Reunification Try

Watch West German Army Tory Leader Warns House

OTTAWA (CP) — Opposition Leader Drew warned Friday night Germany should be watched closely so that it does not attempt reunification of West and East Germany by force.

He said in a Commons external affairs debate that allied staff officers should be continually assigned to the new German army so there is no redeployment of troops without the West being aware of what is going on.

He said German rearmament as a bold and necessary step and described French ratification of the Paris agreements as a great and challenging act of friendship.

But reunification of Germany was constantly in the minds of the Germans. East Germany would not support the Communist cause.

DANGER IN FORCE

Germans in Berlin were told of the "lost provinces." But only three of these provinces were in East Germany. The other six now were Polish or other territory. An attempt at German reunification by force thus might lead to war between Russia and the West.

He said he hopes democracy will emerge triumphant in Germany. But Western friendship should be augmented by frankness in pointing out issues when there is still time to face them.

At another point, he said the West won't preserve peace by horse-trading with the Communists. The West would be no more able to buy off the Communists than it could Hitler in 1939

At the afternoon sitting, Howard Green (PC, Vancouver Quadra) demanded that Canada play a more active part in defense in the Pacific area. He charged the government with "failing to give the Canadian people leadership" in facing the Pacific problem, adding that the greatest threat to peace is centred there.

DEFENDING FORMOSA

On the Far East, Mr. Drew said the United States is not defending Chiang Kai-shek but Formosa. The U.S. had decided that Formosa was an essential link in its defense chain.

"We'd keep our arguments on a saner basis if we bore that in mind," he said.

Mr. Drew added that he doubts that a war over Formosa would lead to a world conflagration. He had "real doubts" that Moscow would invite the destruction of Russia.

Mr. Green entered the Commons debate on foreign affairs to reiterate his stand, expressed for some time past, that Canada should become a member of defense groupings in the Pacific area.

"Today the greatest threat to civilization is in the Pacific," he said. There had been continuous armed aggression by Communists in the north Pacific area since the Korean war began in June, 1950. Yet there was no "protective fence" in the Pacific equivalent to the North Atlantic alliance.

He proposed that Canada work for an advocate formation of a protective grouping of Pacific countries similar to the NATO organization. Such a group would give Canada a voice in decisions made in the Far East, instead of being, as now, bound by the decisions of others.

GEORGE DREW

Faure Favors Talks

MOSCOW (Reuters)—French Premier Edgar Faure has told the newspaper Pravda he advocates Big Four talks, with certain safeguards, the Communist Party newspaper said yesterday.

Pravda says Faure also told one of its reporters he still firmly believes "there are no obstacles to the favorable development of Franco-Soviet relations" and is determined to press for closer trade and cultural relations between the two countries.

To a question-and-answer interview, the French premier described as a "very important positive fact" a recent statement by Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin favoring talks among Russia, the United States, Britain and France. He added such talks could be fruitful provided due account is taken of the security requirements of all the parties concerned.

Big Steel Smelter Start of Industry Planned on Coast

European Interests Behind Development

VANCOUVER (CP)—A new steel and cement industry for British Columbia involving an eventual expenditure of $100,000,000 by a group of British and European companies was announced here yesterday.

First stage in the giant development, announced by Dr William K. Waller, includes establishment of the first steel smelter on the Canadian West Coast and a $7,000,000 cement plant at Chilliwack, 65 miles east of here.

Meanwhile, it was announced that a new process of heating steel ingots by electric induction was put into operation Friday at the Vancouver rolling mills of Western Canada Steel, Ltd.

C. D. Hobbs, president of Western Steel, said it was the first time the process had been used anywhere in the world for heating ingots for rolling. He said it would boost the plant's production to 70,000 tons a year from 40,000 tons and give a marked saving in fuel costs.

Dr. Waller, German-born British chemical engineer and a graduate of Cambridge, said the group he represents plans to build a steel smelter and rolling mills on the B.C. Coast.

He said final decision on the exact location of the plant had not yet been made but that it would be "up-coast" from Vancouver. The plant would cost $10,000,000 and have a capacity of 50,000 tons annually.

Dr. Waller said a start on the plant would be made in about a year and it would take from six to seven years to complete. Eventual expansion to 1,000,000 tons annually was planned and when completed would represent an investment of more than $100,000,000.

The steel project would be part of a widespread program of Waller companies, including cement manufacture by Anglo-Canadian Cement Distributing Co., Ltd., of Vancouver.

Expenditures of about $3,000,000 were planned for office buildings, apartments and two hotels in locations not yet decided on.

He said the building program will operate under the Waller Estates, Ltd., which has a $450,000 pilot home-building project in the lush British Properties area on Vancouver's North Shore.

The industrialist said the steel plant is almost ready for shipment in sections from various European countries.

An immediate start is planned on the Chilliwack cement plant, he said.

Dr. Waller said a considerable volume of the cement produced would be exported to Venezuela. Waller-owned ships of the Britannia Shipping Company will carry cement to the South American country and return with iron ore.

He did not identify the companies associated in the project, but said two principals of the group are Brig.-Gen. A. C. Critchley, Canadian-born London financier, and Hilary Marquand, former health minister in the British Labor government.

Fire Toll Heavy

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—A searing fire swept through a section of the historic 57-year-old ferry building on San Francisco's waterfront Friday resulting in one dead, five injured and an estimated damage of between $500,000 and $2,000,000.

Charles Heller, 51, San Francisco, a spectator, was killed when a fire hose broke and knocked several persons over. He suffered a head injury but died at Harbor Hospital.

Two other bystanders, knocked down by the hose and treated at the hospital, were Catherine Mitchell, 65, who suffered scalp lacerations, and William Curtain, 55, cuts of the scalp. Both were from San Francisco.

Three firemen were treated at the same hospital for minor injuries.

Violence Hits In Pakistan

KARACHI, Pakistan (Reuters)—Pakistani police clashed with angry Pathan tribesmen around the Afghan consulate in Peshawar Friday in a new outburst of violence over agitation for a new Pathan state between the two countries.

Qualified Approval

Pearson in Favor Of Soviet Exchange

OTTAWA (CP)—A Soviet invitation to Canada to send a group of parliamentarians to Russia received qualified approval Friday in the Commons from External Affairs Minister Pearson and Opposition Leader Drew.

The invitation had its beginnings February 9 in the Soviet parliament where a declaration was read which included a suggestion for exchange visits of parliamentarians from Russia and the Western powers.

Mr. Pearson disclosed in a television broadcast Thursday night that Moscow's formal invitation later was transmitted to Ottawa. When the Commons met Friday, John Diefenbaker (PC, Prince Albert) asked about the matter.

Mr. Pearson indicated the invitation will be studied by all members of parliament before a decision is made.

Mr. Pearson said:

"So far as this government is concerned, it has been our constant view that there is a continuing need for contacts between the Soviet Union and the non-Communist world.

"It is not we who have lowered the Iron Curtain; and we would welcome opportunity, I am sure, for genuine, as distinguished from propaganda, contacts between peoples and between their parliamentary representatives.

"We could have wished, I think, that the declaration in question might have been couched in language less reminiscent of the too-familiar propaganda line uttered by Soviet representatives at official conferences and disseminated through their less official channels outside . . .

"There is need for us, I think, to be cautious, but not necessarily to turn a deaf ear to the suggestion which has been advanced."

Mr. Drew said:

"The more opportunity there is of movement back and forth across the curtain—under appropriate assurance of return—the better it will be for everyone."

Bulldozer Heaves Through

Road Opened at Last To Isolated Village

STE. CROIX DE LOTBINIERE, Que. (CP)—A heaving bulldozer pushed aside the last snowbank early Friday night, opening the road between Ste. Croix and Laurier Station for the first time since this village was locked in snow 12 days ago.

Mayor Paul Biron said the nine-mile road, a vital link in supplying Ste. Croix with fuel and food, was still considered unsatisfactory for ordinary traffic.

"There's still quite a bit of snow left," he said. "But the heavy snow is finished."

The 1,500 villagers here were reduced to sharing fuel oil and food after three heavy storms struck the region within a week. The Ste. Croix-Laurier road has been closed since March 21.

In the last few days essential supplies have been brought in from St. Appolinaire, 10 miles away. Villagers were forced to go by car to nearby St. Antoine de Tilly and then by horse over a rough snow road to St. Appolinaire.

Earlier in the day mechanical trouble halted both the bulldozer and a snowblower that had been working around the clock since Tuesday morning on the road. Essential repairs were made to the bulldozer before it cleared the remaining sections of the road.

Policeman Slain

Boy's Quarrel with Family Ends in Shooting of Three

PASCO, Wash (AP)—A 16-year-old outsize high school youth wound up a violent family quarrel Friday by shooting his fleeing father and grandfather and killing a policeman sent to subdue him.

The 200-pound youth was identified as Richard Peterson. Victims of the 15-minute reign of terror were Pasco patrolman Alva A. Jackson, 38, who died of head wounds, Richard's father, P. H. Peterson, 52, and maternal grandfather, Chet Young, 63.

The older Peterson was listed as in critical condition with a rifle wound in the back. The grandfather was in fair condition with buckshot injuries in the legs.

Police Chief A. L. McKibbin said the quarrel started when the youth returned from school and announced he was planning a trip in his car during next week's school vacation.

The quarrel grew violent and the father ran from the house to call police.

Halfway across the street, McKibbin said, Peterson was struck in the back by a rifle shot. Another pistol was emptied in the direction of the fleeing grandfather.

These shots missed but a shotgun blast at Young felled him.

Police said young Peterson then fled to a nearby residence where he obtained another pistol. Patrolman Jackson entered this place and was near the youth when struck in the chest and mouth by pistol shots. He died later in hospital.

Other officers subdued the youth.

Too Much in Pocket Trips Davey Crockett

SEATTLE (AP)—David Crockett, an oil company clerk, was charged Friday with petty larceny in Justice Court.

Prosecutor Charles O. Carroll said Crockett was caught shoplifting a long-play phonograph record from a music store.

The record? "The Ballad of Davey Crockett."

Boy Dies After Ordeal Under 10 Tons of Sand

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—A 13-year-old boy, trapped for 30 minutes under 10 tons of sand Friday night, died in spite of doctors' efforts to save him. A team of surgeons opened the boy's chest and massaged his heart in an effort to bring him back to life.

The boy, John Black, was buried in a 10-by-12-inch loading chute at the bottom of a sand hopper when he fell into it while playing with two companions.

He was pulled through the chute after police and firemen dug desperately for 30 minutes to free him.

He was rushed to hospital, where Dr. F. P. Scarfon and Dr. Ernest Beauglet worked for more than an hour to try to revive him.

The Money Was Legitimate

Beware, Warned Disc Jockey's Bosses But His April Fool's Gag Was No Gag

HONOLULU (UP)—A shapely brunette in a bathing suit and red-white-and-blue top hat passed out 500 genuine $2 bills Friday to Honolulans willing to take a chance on having an April Fool's hoax played on them.

It started when disc jockey J. Akuhead Pupules, whose real name is Hal Lewis, broadcast Friday morning what purported to be a shortwave announcement from Treasury Secretary George Humphrey in Washington. It said the U.S. has a tremendous surplus of $2 bills because of superstition attached to that denomination.

The broadcast said in order to stimulate the use of the $2 bill and reduce the stockpile, the surplus would be passed out in all U.S. cities with a population of 200,000 or more.

Lewis followed up the realistic sounding broadcast with a news release from the local treasury office stating the bills would be distributed from a booth in front of the Bank of Hawaii here to the first 500 callers between noon and 1 p.m.

Because of previous gigantic April Fool's Day jokes perpetrated by Lewis, his employees, the management of radio station KGU, warned the public not to listen to its top disc jockey and explained that its contract with him prohibits the management from censoring any of his material.

KGU's switchboard was swamped with calls from believers and non-believers immediately after the broadcast. Some callers said the announcement was an outright hoax, but one man said he had 11 children and asked if each could get a sample. A caller from the island of Maui said he thought the treasury department was unfair for distributing the money only in Honolulu.

But the believers were paid off in $2 bills when they called at the booth in front of the bank, fooling even 12 local sponsors of Lewis' program who ran advertisements in newspapers warning the public to watch for an April Fool's Day trap.

Last year Lewis incurred the displeasure of the internal revenue department by broadcasting Hawaii's 1953 income taxes had been refunded because of the failure of Congress to approve statehood for Hawaii. That broadcast touched off a spending spree on the part of many listeners who anticipated refunds from the government.

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

REGULARLY at this time of year, men start to dig up the street. The song of the jackhammer is as much a herald of spring as the song of the frogs.

[illegible] "Slow, Men Working" signs are in bloom. Mounds of earth and street barriers are sprouting on Blanshard, Kings, Johnson, and many other beauty spots of the town.

Galleries of sidewalk superintendents urge the workmen on with shouts of applause. You can't hear them. When a pneumatic drill sings its aria to spring, you can't hear anything. But I assume the onlookers are shouting applause, and disregard the possibility that they may only be chewing gum.

* * *

Irritated a little by the blattering and roaring sounds, a lady who runs a coffee shop asked some of the workmen why they were digging holes in the road in front of her place.

None of them seemed to know. They had orders to dig up the road, and that was all. So the lady says.

Digging is more fun if you don't know why you are doing it. That may be the viewpoint of the workmen. Once you have a definite objective in sight—unearthing a sewer pipe, let's say—all the spirit of adventure goes out of the thing.

As long as you dig merely for the joy of it, you keep your amateur standing.

Road-breaking is generally thought to be the exclusive preserve of the public works department, but there is no reason why people who enjoy digging should be hampered by stuffy laws and conventions.

Independent gangs of road-breakers may appear. I have heard that a practical joker once turned up with a gang of "navvies" in London, dug a huge hole in an important street, and went away before anyone learned that he was strictly a free-lance road man. The works department had not ordered any hole dug. The same thing may be going on here. Have you asked any street workmen for their credentials lately?

"Look here, ma'am," a free-lance jackhammer man could say to a coffee shop owner, "I don't really have to dig up this stretch of road until next year, or maybe the year after. I'll bet you take in a lot of money here, eh? Nice place this. Jackhammers sure make a lot of noise. Customers don't like it, eh? You know, if someone made it worth my while, I could just as easily go and dig at the other end of town."

* * *

Our women workers did a fine job in factories and shipyards during the last war. I learned yesterday that some of them, at least, held their own at practical joking as well as on the production line.

Vera the welder (let's call her by that name) took her daily share of joshing in good spirit. Then she saw one of her "tormentors" fast asleep on the deck of a ship, with his back to a bulkhead.

Expertly and silently, Vera welded the metal cleats of his boots to the iron deck. (So she tells me.) When he tried to get up and walk away, he found himself roofed to the deck. Later he struck back by welding her lunch pail to a bulkhead. And so the battle of wits continued—with Vera dishing it out as well as taking it—until the end of the war.

* * *

Young recruits to the working force of an office or factory (talking about practical jokes) usually get the full treatment from the staff buffoons.

One such butt of ponderous humor is an attractive girl who works for a local paint factory. Among other capers, her colleagues locked her in a cabinet recently. She thought it was a lot of fun, but those clowns had better be careful. She's a smart girl.

Unless they mend their manners, these fellows may look in the glass one evening and find that their little colleague has contrived to paint them red, white and blue.

Garden Notes

Plant Potatoes While You Dig

BY M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

Most gardeners will be awaiting the long Easter week end before starting the major planting and sowing operations, and most of us, alas, will have to start from scratch, as the wet weather hasn't given us much of a chance to get on with winter digging.

While most vegetable crops do better when the ground has been prepared some weeks in advance, potatoes can go in as you dig, performing the digging and the planting in one operation. Put in a row of tubers four inches deep, making the rows 30 inches apart; or roughly three times the width of your spade. Any manure, compost, or peat moss you can spare can be thrown in on top of the tubers before the rows are filled in. This is one of the best guarantees against scabby potatoes I know of, and the material doesn't even have to be completely rotted. You can use rough, half decomposed compost or material from the pile of leaves you raked up last fall.

If you sprouted your seed potatoes the way I told you about earlier in the year, the sprouts should now be short and stocky, and of good green color, all ready to make good growth. If you want to go to a little extra trouble to get more eating-size potatoes and fewer little ones rub off all but the two strongest shoots on each seed tuber.

In planting the seed potatoes, it isn't necessary to stand them sprouted end up; they will come up even if planted upside down. A little complete fertilizer in the rows, such as O.K., Vigoro or 4-plant, will give a higher yield but never scatter dry fertilizer over the tubers as you plant, for it will act as a weed-killer and kill off the potato shoots as they form. Cover the tubers with a layer of your rough compost, manure, or leaves first, then dust with fertilizer.

It is no good putting fertilizer under the seed potatoes, for the roots are formed, not underneath the tuber, but from the spot where the emerging shoot joins the parent tuber. Fertilizer placed above will work its way down with the soil water to feed these roots.

I don't like to use a fertilizer on potatoes which contains muriate of potash, as I believe this chemical gives the crop a soapy flavor. All complete bag fertilizers contain potash in some form, either as sulphate of potash or muriate of potash. While the muriate form is all right for most crops, it is bad medicine for potatoes—and for roses so take a look at the label on the fertilizer sack before you start scattering. The correct rate of application is about a cupful per running yard of row.

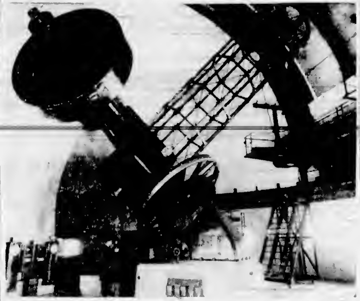
Plane Ends Mercy Hop

VANCOUVER (CP) — An RCAF flying boat completed a 1,000-mile round trip Thursday night after it bucked bad weather and severe icing conditions to bring a 2½-year-old polio victim here from Prince Rupert.

An RCAF spokesman at Sea Island said the girl, flown here in an iron lung, was in "very good" condition.

Flt. Lieut. Andy Carswell piloted the plane through poor weather conditions but the trip was completed without incident.

Observatory Season Opens



Public can peek at stars again through this giant telescope at Little Saanich Mountain. Dr. R. M. Petrie, director of observatory, is keeping open house throughout spring and summer months, starting today, with an astronomer standing by from 8 to 10 p.m. each Saturday.

Building Firm Challenges Saskatchewan Sales Tax

A current challenge to the validity of Saskatchewan's 3 per cent sales tax is expected to create considerable interest here in British Columbia, where the tax was modeled on the Prairie act. The B.C. tax now is 5 per cent.

A Regina construction firm, Cairns Construction Ltd., has served a writ on the Saskatchewan government notifying it that an action has been commenced against the act, which has not been tested previously.

The company alleges the act imposes indirect, customs and excise tax and also interferes with the free admission of goods into the province. On these counts, it is contrary to the British North America Act, the statement alleges.

The act was passed "with the intention and expectation that the person on whom the levy is made will pass the burden on to the persons with whom he deals" and is therefore ultra vires of the BNA Act as an indirect tax, the company claims.

The action is being brought on behalf of the company by Dr. M. C. Shumiacchier, QC, of Regina, who recently opened an office in Victoria, where his associate is John Stone.

TAX ON MATERIALS

The company is proceeding under a statute permitting legal action against the crown. In a statement of claim, the company asks a court judgment for return of $6,688 in the hands of the provincial treasurer representing 3 per cent tax it paid for building materials.

The company also asks a declaration that the disputed act is ultra vires of the BNA Act or else that the company is not subject to payment of tax on building materials.

Regarding administration of the act, the company statement charges the normal incidence of the tax and the burden of paying it falls "upon persons other than those upon whom the demand to pay is purportedly made by the taxing act."

NOT A USER

The company claims it is not a user or a consumer, within the meaning of the act, of the building materials utilized in the construction of houses. The act provides for taxation on the user or consumer of purchased goods.

The act provides that a refund of a tax deposit will be made if satisfactory proof is furnished the provincial treasurer that a purchase was made for re-sale by a licensed vendor.

A vendor requires a license to make retail sales under the act and to collect the tax. The provincial treasurer refused to license the company on the grounds that it is not a vendor within the meaning of the act.

However, the company claims the greatest part of its business is building and selling houses. It also builds under contract.

Where the company has paid the tax it is considered a cost and passed on to persons with whom it deals. Similarly, subcontractors engaged by it include the tax in their charges for work done.

The case is not expected to come up for trial for several months.

EFFECT ON B.C.

Since the British Columbia act is modeled on Saskatchewan's, the case will cause considerable interest here and will have some effect, Mr. Stone said last night.

As one interesting example that could possibly be tested in British Columbia, Mr. Stone cited the case of automobiles purchased elsewhere and brought to British Columbia. The sales tax now is charged when these automobiles are registered in B.C.

Mr. Stone said it could be argued that the tax thus becomes customs or excise duty which can only be levied by the federal government, and could restrict free movement of trade within Canada.

Canadian Tax Cuts May Hit $150,000,000

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Harris likely will unveil a "consumers'" budget Tuesday night, snipping federal levies in several areas but more particularly in the fields of excise and personal income taxes.

The 1955-56 budget, it is understood, will be aimed at stimulating the economy by in- [illegible] taxpayers and aiding businessmen to reduce prices and possibly increase sales of some factory produced products.

Tax cuts, in the personal income and excise tax fields, may total about $150,000,000 — roughly equivalent to the officially forecast drop in the government's spending for the fiscal year which opened today.

The tax reduction on personal income likely will amount to about $60,000,000 and the reductions in excise taxes about $90,000,000. On the basis of collections in the fiscal year just ended, the personal income tax reduction would amount to about five per cent of the $1,200,000,000 collected in this field.

In addition, Mr. Harris in all probability will announce:

1. A tariff for the first time on polyethylene, a basic plastic material, in wide use in Canada, particularly in the production of transparent food wrappers. The item has been allowed in duty-free, but a newly-developed Canadian industry has demanded imposition of a 20 per cent tariff as protection against imports.

2. A deficit in the government's 1954-55 accounts of about $130,000,000, roughly about three per cent of the budget and the first deficit in post-war years.

Mapping out of the 1955-56 budget—Mr. Harris' first—has as usual been conducted in utmost secrecy. But informants disclosed that planning was developed in a general atmosphere that Canada is recovering [illegible] 1954 and that the gross national product—value of all goods and services produced—will rise by $1,000,000,000 or more in 1955.

That would give Canada a record GNP of at least $25,000,000,000, widening the field of potential tax yields and giving Mr. Harris a lot of elbow room in planning tax changes and reductions.

Belgium is planning to build the highest tower in the world as the main attraction for the Brussels World's Fair in 1958. The proposed "vertical city" would be 400 feet higher than New York's Empire State Building and more than twice the height of the famed Eiffel Tower. TCA is planning on a reduced surplus of $200,000 for this year the company told the Commons railway committee Friday. The publicly-owned airline had a surplus of $496,000 in 1954. This year, however, it looks for higher operating revenues but also for expenses that will jump more than income.

Joint Guarantee

The U.S. and some of its allies have been considering a joint guarantee to protect Formosa against attack by the Chinese Communists, informed sources said Friday. The plan, aimed at ending the dangerous impasse in the Far East, also might include the withdrawal of Chinese Nationalist forces from the islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

Colin Cameron, CCF MP for Nanaimo, said at Ottawa Friday night the government should provide jobs immediately for Canada's unemployed by planning the production of capital goods for underdeveloped areas of the world. Protest Rejected

Communist East Germany newspapers have rejected protests against a pocketbook blockade of the West's only highway link with the Allied sector of Berlin. There was as yet no official Soviet reply to the protests. But Soviet reaction was expected to parallel that of the newspapers, that the fixing of tolls is a German affair.

Airmen Stumble On Body

SPOKANE (AP) — Two airmen, looking for bottles in a wooded area near a scenic drive, found the body of an elderly man Friday night.

Police said one of two 20-year-old men, arrested earlier in a "sadistic" robbery and stab[illegible] ing the man and dumping his body.

The victim was identified as John G. Schultz, 71, of Spokane.

CLERK 'CONFESSES'

Officers said that Nicholas R. Valorz, a clerk, who was being held on an attempted robbery charge, was questioned about Schultz's death and had broken down and confessed the killing.

Valorz reportedly implicated Neil C. Wallen, also charged with attempted robbery in the same case.

Police said the pair had admitted assaults on Myron Daugherty, 49, and Gerald T. Elliott, 59. Elliott was treated for a stab wound.

The youths were accused of beating the two older men after forcing them into a car.

Red Chestnut Soon To Split Japanese Soothsayer Sure

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Donaho Kodama, Japan's number one soothsayer, consulted his bundle of bamboo sticks here Friday and came up with good news for the Western world and the U.S. Republican party.

His predictions were that: 1. The GOP would win the [illegible] 2. The Formosa crisis will die out; and 3. Russia will split apart from internal dissension.

The 78-year-old Japanese philosopher, who is heading back to his homeland after a tour of the United States, has a pretty good record to back up his statements.

He accurately predicted Truman's election in 1948, Eisenhower's in 1952, the Korean war, Stalin's death and Malenkov's ouster. And on his last trip to the U.S., in 1914, he hit the re-election of President Wilson right on the head.

Kodama has been a soothsayer for 65 years, beginning as a youth in Nichinan, Kyushu, with the study of Eki-Kyo, a philosophy of physical health development of which spiritual meditation and soothsaying are offshoots.

Kodama said he had studied the future for the [illegible] there will be no war between major powers in that time.

The Formosa situation, he believes, is "like lightning." There is much noise and fear, but it will soon die away.

Russia he said, "is like a chestnut" with a prickly outer covering that cannot be approached.

"But soon the chestnut will ripen, and the inner pod will break into four parts, never to come together again." This he interpreted as a forecast of great internal trouble in [illegible]

Kodama declined to predict whether President Eisenhower would run for office again. But no matter who runs, he indicated, the Republicans will win.

Plowing Experts On Visit

Three Ontario plowing experts were in town yesterday as guests of the B.C. department of agriculture after competing in the Chilliwack plowing match against B.C.'s best on Wednesday.

F. A. Lashley, secretary-manager of the International Plowing Match, is a director in the Ontario department of agriculture.

The other two members of the team were Norman Jarvis of Markham, Ont., and Hugh Baird of Blackwater, Ont.

The soil at Chilliwack was "some of the best land we've seen," Mr. Lashley said.

The Ontario men were given a tour around Victoria with visits to Butchart Gardens and a dairy farm.

"Victoria is wonderful," Mr. Lashley said.

New Areas To Get Electric Service

B.C. Power Commission yesterday announced a project to extend electrification on the Sechelt Peninsula.

Extension of the system, which now serves the communities of Grantham, Gibsons, Selma Park, Wilson Creek, Roberts Creek and Sechelt, will bring first central-station electrical service to the Pender Harbor area.

A total of 245 year-round and 66 seasonal customers will receive power initially.

Color movies will be shown by the B.C. Electric in Colwood Community Hall at 8 p.m. Monday under auspices of Colwood Community Club.

Predictions Grow Stronger

Decisive Time Near In Britain's Affairs

LONDON (CP) — In a strangely-muted atmosphere Britain is approaching — or appears to be approaching — a decisive development in her domestic affairs. The big break is expected next Tuesday or Wednesday.

On one of those days, it is confidently predicted, Prime Minister Churchill will finally do what some have been urging him to do for three years — resign and make way for his undoubted successor, Foreign Secretary Eden.

The political guessing game on when Churchill will retire continued Friday with Sir Beverley Baxter, Toronto-born Conservative member of Parliament, predicting in Birmingham that the resignation would come in "a matter of hours" and that Eden would take over in "a matter of days."

The announcement, if it comes, will transform the political situation. What has been called the present dragging, deadbeat parliament will be dissolved. Eden will assume an office he may feel overdue and the way will be clear for a general election. The suspense will be over.

Conservative party speculation is that Eden will select May 26 as polling day. Lobby gossip says there would probably be a minor government shakeup first to give an "Eden tinge" in the administration.

These important events, which Fleet Street seems taking for granted, are heralded at a time when three-quarters of the British population is cut off from its daily reading matter by a strike principally affecting the London newspapers.

Job Picture Improves During Week

Unemployment in the Victoria area dropped by 400 persons during the past week, the National Employment Service Office said last night.

Warmer weather was responsible, the office said.

The men's section showed a decrease of 295 applications and vacancies remained at the same level as the week before.

In the women's section the situation shows practically no change. Employment opportunities remain low, although there is a slight demand for stenographers, waitresses, housekeepers, daily household workers and a few experienced sales clerks.

With the advent of better weather throughout the country, vacancies from other parts of the country continue to come in, but most of these are in the technical groups.

Another Blockade?

RESURGENCE of Communist obstruction in Berlin is fairly clear indication that the Soviet bloc, having failed to hold France out of the Western European Union, is transferring its delaying tactics to West Germany. The sudden imposition of highway trucking tolls amounting to $15,000,000 yearly on through traffic to the free German area stands without other visible cause. It is obstruction for the sake of its nuisance value, and perhaps with the hope that West German differences thereby can be enlarged and fanned into further delaying action. West Berlin citizens, with their memories of the food blockade of other years, turned to their government for help immediately, and that has been followed in turn by the appeal of the West German parliament to Allied intervention.

The decision on the part of the Soviets to revive the bickering in the former German capital on trumped up grounds is somewhat of an admission of failure. The protracted efforts to break up the new European defense union by playing on the fears of France over Germany rearming, extending over a period of two years or more, proved impotent. The swing now to whatever causes of dissatisfaction can be found in West Germany against rearmament might be from the Communist standpoint the next step. The threat to Berlin's food supply may be the first move, but there will no doubt be more. This time, however, the reasons are out in the open and it is not likely that the Soviet device could succeed.

One thing that even the most devious diplomacy cannot conceal is that the aim of such obstruction is to prevent the reunion of Germany since the Kremlin cannot win it over; to prolong unrest, and to retard by any means the development of WEU plans for the immediate future. If western Europe could be kept embroiled and off balance while another "five-year plan" went through that would be a considerable achievement for the Kremlin, to say nothing of the Cominform. But if the Soviets were impotent in the case of France where an all-out effort at disruption was made, is it likely they can succeed in Germany; particularly at the moment when independence, respect, and co-operation have been extended to her by the powerful new alliance of the West?

Another blockade of Berlin would only anger the German people. Its aim is not hidden and it is easy to analyze. Its motive, obstruction, is so clear that there can be no hiding it. The imposition of $15,000,000 in highway tolls without cause at the East Berlin border represents little save spleen, and that is a singularly unattractive way of winning friends.

Vancouver's Drug Bill

EVIDENCE given by Mr. Walter Mulligan, chief constable of Vancouver, before the Senate special committee investigation into the narcotics traffic offers substantial refutation of the assertions of those (and they include Federal Health Minister Martin) who have tried to minimize the seriousness of the problem. Mr. Mulligan has deposed that in Vancouver alone the crimes committed by drug addicts in their desperation for money with which to pay the high prices charged by peddlers account for an annual loss to the public of $10,000,000 at the very least.

That assessment of what drug addiction is costing Vancouver would appear at first glance to support the arguments of those armchair sociologists who have been campaigning for daily free issues of drugs to registered addicts from government clinics. Mr. Mulligan, however, has made it clear that this over-simplified "solution" reflects lack of understanding of the problem in all its aspects. Both he and Commissioner Nicholson of the RCMP, who testified before the committee earlier, are inflexibly opposed to the free clinic idea.

Most of the obvious arguments against it have been discussed many times already, but Mr. Mulligan has put out another which would appear to be unanswerable. This is that the type of narcotic to which addicts are accustomed and which the system would continue to demand is one so devastating in its moral and physical effects that to supply it from public clinics would be inhuman. Nor would such issue serve to curb drug-incited tendencies towards criminality.

Vancouver is acknowledged to be the worst centre of illicit drug trafficking in Canada. Chief Constable Mulligan is in daily contact with this problem in the raw—and how raw it can be only he, his subordinates and officers of the RCMP narcotics branch can fully understand. His opinions, so closely in agreement with those of the head of the national police force, must carry infinitely more weight than those of well-intentioned laymen whose views are taken from books and lack a basis of direct experience.

There may be no real cure yet for the victims of this terrible traffic, but that is a poor excuse for a do-nothing attitude leaving them loose in the community as involuntary enemies of society and the prey of the drug rings. It is to be hoped that the findings of the Senate committee will lead to recognition of this as a national problem demanding positive action.

With Disarming Candor

A PROGRESSIVE - CONSERVATIVE member, a woman MP, aroused a slight furore in Parliament this week by saying that if she were a young man she would think twice before serving her country in the armed forces; this because of the treatment meted out to burnt-out veterans who are WVA recipients. One may hold such a view but there is a convention against voicing it. In wartime the indiscretion would invite the charge of disloyalty, with penalty attached; in peacetime it is considered prejudicial to the security of the country since it might adversely affect recruiting. One speaks with certain immunity in Parliament, however, and if one is a woman also with disarming candor.

One doubts that any young potential recruit has the wisdom to look so far ahead; to the day when he might be an old veteran in straitened circumstances. Life when one enters a recruiting station seems blithe, adventurous and full of promise, as in peacetime it now is. Old burnt-out veterans themselves, though with ample cause for complaint, would be the last to invoke their plight as a deterrent to recruiting: for they are the soul of loyalty. The Halton MP's avowal will therefore do no harm; one hopes instead it might do some good, at least for the men in whose favor she spoke.

She would be exaggerating the point in order to strengthen her argument for a better deal for the burnt-out veteran forced to eke out a precarious living. Sometimes exaggeration is necessary to drive home a case. A similar excusable exaggeration is to be noted in the comment of the Social Credit member who said that if these old veterans had haggled with Canada in time of crisis as Canada is now haggling with them, this country would have been tucked into the German empire long since. That is to stretch the point irrationally, yet one fact is unmistakably clear—present DVA recipients did not haggle when their country called to them in need. That alone makes the government's grudging aid to them a bitter irony.

Interpreting the News

Assumption Premature

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

PRIME Minister Nehru of India has made a most unstatesmanlike attack on the United States.

He assumes the existence of a United States policy which has not yet been determined and toward which the president is making a very cautious approach, regarding Quemoy and Matsu, and then places India on the side of Peiping in the most direct fashion.

"It is said that if the Chinese people's government attacks Quemoy and Matsu then the whole force of the mighty power will be engaged in defending them because, it is said, they might involve the security of the great power," Nehru said.

"It is said." "It is said." That's the kind of speculation unofficial sources deal in, and is a type of approach usually abhorred by statesmen with a sense of responsibility for their leadership.

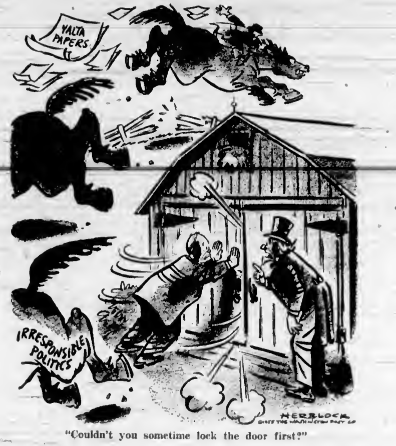
The one clear thing that has come out of the Washington hassle over this subject has been that no decision has been made. Nehru knows it well. For him to anticipate what the decision will be is not only extremely bad taste, but extremely bad politics for himself.

Nehru wants to sit with folded hands, wants all Asia to sit with folded hands, and depend upon the wishes of good people to stop Communist conquest.

Yet he is quick enough to throw the infiltrators into Indian jails when they threaten his political position.

On the surface his speech, made during a parliamentary period supposed to be devoted to consideration of the foreign office budget, might be attributed to a man who has let long years of contact with Western domination, long years served in prison, drive him into hatred of everything Western.

Nehru is too shrewd an operator for that. He is working on something.



"Couldn't you sometime lock the door first?"

True or Not?

By FRANK KELLEY

NOT being an historian, although interested in coast history, having read a bit about the contention of the U.S. that it was a citizen of the United States who first entered the Columbia River and provided Uncle Sam with one of several reasons for claiming everything of Northwest America between the mouth of that river and the 54.40th parallel of north latitude, I was able a few days ago to give a high school student some information when he asked me who was the first white explorer to enter the Columbia River from the Pacific Ocean side. He was interested in the history of the northwest, he said.

While no authority, I did remember reading that at the time the matter of the boundary was given to the Emperor of Germany to decide who was to be given the "Oregon Country," the northern limits of which had prompted the "54.40 or fight" slogan, the Emperor William being as fair as he could be, established the present limits at the 49th parallel of north latitude. His findings seemed to have fitted in with the belief of Hudson's Bay Company officials when they made their coast headquarters at Victoria and prepared to abandon their former headquarters at Fort Vancouver on the Columbia, where its factors had been in charge for some time.

* * *

I do remember having heard through some old-timers, Hudson's Bay stock among them, something of that issue re the boundary. It had been a live topic at the time of the San Juan affair, too; while a recent issue of the "Beaver," published quarterly, had considerable to say about the subject.

The writer of the article, Thomas Dunbabin, titles it "Who discovered the Columbia?" Some historians, he says, credit the Columbia Redeviva, commanded by Captain Gray, of Boston with being the first vessel; the second, HMS Chatham, Captain Robert Broughton, RN. He claims the second assumption is as wrong as the first may be.

The U.S. claim to the Oregon Country, he points out, was based primarily on the assumed priority of discovery by Gray. For the British side Captain Vancouver had contended that Gray had not entered—therefore did not discover—the river proper, merely anchoring on the inside of the bar; and that the real discoverer was Broughton. Vancouver was apparently not interested, by reason of his belief in Broughton's priority, in claims put forth in behalf of the trading schooner Jenny, of Bristol, England, commanded by James Baker, which was in the running for second place and sometime mentioned as the first.

* * *

Vancouver was in northwest waters to explore and chart the coast. His ships were Discovery and Chatham. He missed the mouth of the Columbia, but believed the Spaniard Heceta, of the Santiago, while he had not entered it knew it was the mouth of a great river. During 1792, talking with Gray, Vancouver learned the latter had anchored in the "Sound" on May 11. It was in October of that year Broughton was sent to examine the river and explore it for some 120 miles.

Re Broughton's report, Vancouver states Broughton had talked with Baker of the Jenny near Port Adam and named the bight where the vessels were anchored Baker's Bay, after the Jenny's skipper. He gives credit for greater knowledge of the channel than Broughton and apparently the Jenny's second appearance in the river. Was the first visit before May 11?

So possibly it never will be established who first navigated the Columbia—Briton, Yankee or Spaniard.

Reports from Ottawa

A MAN and wife 60 years or older should, according to the Department of Veterans' Affairs, be able to "maintain a minimum level of health and self-respect" on $106.87 a month.

To people whose monthly rent alone is more than that—and there are many such in the cities—DVA's cost-of-living figures are not likely to be convincing. But John Ryder, DVA's research adviser, can trot out statistics to prove that the average elderly veteran and his wife can get along quite nicely on the burned-out vets' allowance of $108 a month.

Food is the biggest budget item, and Ryder allows that the 44,000 people who draw veterans' allowances should spend at least $55.87 a month to ensure man and wife a daily intake of 2,000 calories each. That, Ryder says, is "a reasonably good diet" for people who aren't burning much energy working.

Like the statistics of any statistician worth his salt, Ryder's statistics are somewhat confusing. But through them gleams this ray of hope: if you have a family of eight, a momma and poppa and six kids, the unit cost of feeding them will be 15 per cent less than for a family of three; 25 per cent less than for two, and 40 per cent less than if you're stuffing those 2,000 calories down your own throat. That saving, and family allowances on top? You can't lose!

* * *

You'll probably search the classified ads in vain for "Apt to rent, cntrl, all mod cons, $30," but $30 a month is what Ryder allows for rent in the maintenance of that minimum level of health and self respect.

He says he arrived at this figure through a survey of the rents actually paid by 3,500 DVA pensions in 1952. Average rents, by DVA districts, ranged from $16.85 a month in one of the rural, have-not provinces to $28 a month in Ontario. He selected the top figure, added 7 per cent to compensate for a subsequent rise in shelter costs reported by the consumer price index, and came up with $30.

Of course DVA recognizes that some pensioners have to pay $40 or $50 or $60 a month in the cities. The average is brought down by those in some country districts who actually pay only $1 or $2 a month—just enough to cover taxes on almost unrentable property. New provisions for extra aid to war veterans enable DVA to give up to $12 a month to pensioners who can't pay their rents out of their $108 allowances without depriving themselves of food or clothing.

* * *

After food and shelter have been taken care of, the average DVA couple has $21 a month left.

Ryder's boss, J. H. Parliament, told the Commons committee on veterans' affairs last week that "The Toronto Welfare Council study, at 1952 prices, suggests an allowance for the provision and maintenance of clothing of $7.24 a month for women of 60 and over and $6.70 for men of the same age group. As economies in clothing maintenance are possible for married couples a combined total of $13 a month might be considered as adequate."

That leaves $8. Mad money? Not quite. That's for tooth paste, haircuts, razor blades, shaving cream, cosmetics, tobacco and the like. It might even include a Saturday night pint, but at a buck per each per week a pint might mean no toothpaste.

Strange Time to Leave

(From The Montreal Gazette)

THE Canadian government is reported to have definitely decided to withdraw the remaining Canadian forces from Korea.

Such a withdrawal would be entirely understandable if it could be considered that the need for them in Korea is over and done with. But reports from Korea are full of anxiety. The Communists, so far from respecting the terms of the truce, are known to be building up their forces very strongly. The possibility that South Korea will be again invaded, and the whole campaign for its defense undone, has become very real.

Under these circumstances the withdrawal of the Canadian forces, even if they are now only small, seems out of accord with conditions as they are known to exist. There is a certain reminder here of what happened in West Germany in 1946. The Canadian forces were then withdrawn. It was explained that they were too small to be adequately supported. And it was also explained that "Canada is not one of the occupying powers and is not a member of the Allied Control Commission."

But it was not long before the troops had to be sent back. And their presence there has been considered essential for the maintenance of peace.

Even if the Canadian troops in South Korea are now only symbolic, this scarcely seems the time to withdraw the symbol. The future of Korea was perhaps never more uncertain.

Under the Dome

By RAY BAINES
Colonist Legislative Reporter

THE Sloan Commission on B.C.'s forest industry will expose a number of the sore spots which Gordon Gibson's uninhibited oratory failed to expose. During the course of the inquiry, people with real or imagined complaints will have the opportunity to lay them squarely before Chief Justice Gordon Sloan. The mass of evidence which he will accrue will play an important part as it did in 1945 in forming the basis for any recommendations he may pass on to the provincial government.

One such complaint came this week from Gerald Dent, president of the Squamish Towing & Contracting Co., who has expressed his views openly on the question of timber sale auctions.

Mr. Dent charged that there exists a form of blackmail which in effect makes a farce of the principle of opening competitive bidding for Crown-owned timber. This is the way it works, according to Mr. Dent:

A rival company approaches a potentially strong bidder and demands a portion of the timber the latter may acquire in exchange for staying out of the bidding. In other words, Company A gets a chance to obtain the timber at a lower price through lack of competitive bidding provided he is willing to kick through with part of his bargain assets. Company B gets a block of marketable timber for nothing, simply by keeping quiet.

* * *

Government forestry officials say they have no proof that the practice is carried on but they have "suspicions." The system, called a "stand-off" deal in private auction sales, is an old gimmick used by certain antique dealers in obtaining cheap articles. The difference is that in the latter system the dealers simply agree among themselves to let one of their number do the bidding, without competition, and then they share the profits on the profitable re-sale.

Nobody seems to know if this is actually illegal in private auctions. But in public business, any kind of angling between bidders is certainly considered unethical, if not illegal.

The same situation could prevail in bidding for public contracts—and it has prevailed in many democratic governments.

Supposing, for example, the public works department published an invitation for tenders on a road job. Three contractors may get together, talk it over, decide on a general price range—possibly a good high one—then submit tenders within that range, taking their chances. The competitive element may be present within the range they set, but the range itself may be much higher than it need be.

The three could simply draw lots and let the winner have a free hand to submit any price he wishes. Or they could take turns if there were more than two jobs coming up. I am not implying that these things are done, but that they could be done.

* * *

The government's answer, of course, is a simple one. If the price is not right they simply reject any bid and call for them again. But if they are not skilled at making accurate estimates, they might assume the price submitted is a fair one because the contractors are in the business and "they" should know."

In the case of the timber sale auctions, the government could simply refuse any and all bids if it had any reason to believe there were "deals" going on among the bidders.

Mr. Dent's complaint was that such things can go on under the present system. An opponent of the forest management licenses system, he believes that forestry should be returned to some method of competitive leasing, while still retaining the principles of government supervised sustained yield and management.

Most governments in Canada follow a protective system on any public bidding either for contracts or public property—whereby the goods or jobs are openly advertised and the bids are opened publicly at a certain place and a definite time.

This is to allay suspicion that there is any collusion between the government and the bidder. Opening of sealed bids before the eyes of the press and the bidders pretty well precludes any possibility of unsavory practices in this field. The man who submits the best price—lowest or highest, usually depending on whether the government is buying services or selling assets—is usually successful. If the "best" price is still not good enough, all the bids can be and sometimes are, rejected.

* * *

If there is no law to prevent what Mr. Dent complains about—and if it does in fact go on—the forestry service can protect itself best by knowing for sure what is a good price. If through any deals among bidders the prices are out of line they could be rejected.

Implicit in Mr. Dent's complaint was a feeling that the whole system was wrong because such things can happen. But it is doubtful if any system could completely block the fellow trying to make a fast buck.

Letters to the Editor

Earthworms

Mr. Sanderson's letter on earthworms in Sunday's Colonist is very interesting but I am afraid he has not had much practical experience with these busybodies.

When he says "—and with plenty of worms in the soil artificial fertilizers are quite unnecessary", he is crowning the truth. I am not very familiar with artificial fertilizers but I know that in Eastern Ontario, where worms are very [illegible] I have cultivated in four different provinces and needs many tons of rich cow manure per acre in order to make it worth while cropping.

In Saskatchewan on land that has never seen a worm the soil will produce grain for over half a century without fertilizer of any kind.

Here at Prospect Lake where I have been digging among tall fir and other trees I haven't seen a worm, that I remember, as yet. Lumber and grain are among Canada's most important products, and as a producer Mr. Worm hasn't helped much here.

As fish bait, worms are valuable but it may not be long before the SPCA will have this cruel practice abolished, so it might be as well to start looking for some new problem to worry about.

Comradeship

The inspiring editorial in Tuesday's Colonist amphasizing the fine and varied work being done by the Canadian Legion was one that could not fail to stir any former service man or woman, and while I was reading it I wondered if it was known that there is a branch of the Canadian Legion in Victoria for former service women.

Its membership, in addition to former members of the Canadian forces consists of ex-WRNS, ATS, WAAF, and those who served in the Allied and Commonwealth forces.

In addition to the monthly meeting which is devoted to Legion work, they hold socials and "get-togethers", with the object of retaining the spirit of comradeship which existed in the services.

Anyone wanting further information can call 2-9037 or 2-0567 any evening after 6.

Not Proven

I have seen in the papers letters from correspondents, remarking on the merits or demerits of the practice of fluoridation—that is, the treatment of the water supply of a city with fluoride, ostensibly to benefit the physical condition of the citizens.

Fluoridation is not a proven treatment. In the first place, and its efficacy has been questioned by some authorities on the subject. Besides, such a compulsory medication would be costly and wasteful, for it would treat the whole water supply of a community, including that used for laundry, lawn watering, etc., while I understand only one-thousandth part of the water supply is used for drinking. In any case, a person desiring fluoridation can procure it for himself by buying fluoride pills, without forcing it on others.

Lord Douglas of Barloch, a British parliamentarian, is quoted as saying on this question: "Procedures of this kind are the antithesis of medical science. The drug is administered to everyone, without regard to physical condition, whether with teeth or without, whether young or old. It is therefore a reckless and unethical practice."

In Gratitude

The Gordon Minckler family would like to thank our many friends and neighbors and strangers alike for their kindness in the way of clothes, furniture, food, and money after the loss of our home and possessions through fire.

My wife's hands are still bandaged so she can't write as yet to personally thank those whose addresses she has.

Flower Snatchers

I would suggest through you that school teachers and school ma'ams refuse all gifts of bouquets, both of flowers and fruit, except with a tag attached by the parents.

It is not only becoming a competition between the pupils but also makes for petty thievery by the four to seven-year-olds.

No one begrudges the bouquets, but to see the youngsters [illegible] and then run in and snatch a flower here and there, and sometimes pinch them before they are really out (sometimes on second thoughts, to be thrown away') is really exasperating.

Dogs, whom I also love, are bad enough, but it should be easier to teach the kiddies."

Police Praised

This is a note of appreciation of the Saanich police department in connection with a recent emergency.

On Wednesday, March 22, I had a very severe nose bleed, and was losing blood at an alarming rate. A neighbor phoned to request a police escort for my wife, who was driving me.

Immediately Sergeant Hamilton was stationed at the Royal Oak intersection and offered to drive me to hospital, my wife to follow.

By means of his car phone he had traffic lights in the city cleared for a fast run through and through the Saanich police headquarters had my doctor notified of my condition, had the hospital alerted for my arrival, exercised great driving ability, caution and courtesy.

I am now nearly back to normal, largely thanks to the help of the Saanich Police department and immediate and skilful attention at the St. Joseph's Hospital.

Join the Legion

The Colonist is to be complimented and thanked for the stirring editorial, "A Call to Membership," which appeared the other day in support of the present drive of the Canadian Legion for new members.

[illegible] who answered their country's call in time of need, to serve now by joining the Canadian Legion. By so doing you will be helping those comrades who are not able to help themselves. The Canadian Legion is constantly working for and contributing to the betterment of conditions for many fellow Canadians whose lives were affected by war.

As stated in your editorial, the Legion is a zealous guardian of the veterans' interests and a strong membership will be an assurance that this good work will continue. To those veterans who have not yet joined, recall the wonderful comradeship which existed during your service overseas. Help to keep that alive, join the Canadian Legion now and show that even although you are back in civvy street, you still, as in wartime, consider it a privilege to be able to help a less fortunate comrade.

One Canadian Dies Every Three Hours

OTTAWA (CP)—One Canadian dies in a traffic accident every three hours.

To put it another way, 56 people die on Canada's roads or streets every week or about 225 every month.

The calculations are those of C. W. Gilchrist, managing director of the Canadian Good Roads Association. He makes them on [illegible] death toll of close to 3,000, the highest since the Second World War.

Those are the grim figures, he said, which have prompted the CGRA to call Canada's first highway safety conference here May 24-26. At the meeting federal, provincial and business and industrial representatives will formulate a national program of action to cut the mounting toll.

Mr. Gilchrist draws a comparison showing that the post-war traffic death toll exceeds the number of Canadians killed in all the land battles in which Canadian troops fought in the Second World War and in the [illegible]

Grain Prices

WINNIPEG (CP)—Prices reflected an easier tone due to rains in the southwestern part of the United States. Trading was moderately active.

Some selling was evident in all commodities due to the U.S. markets. Support was thin.

There was fair domestic buying in oats. Rye attracted a few export orders. Only overseas business was a few parcel sale lots of rye to the continent.

'Social Capital' Badly Needed

BY HARRY YOUNG

Colonist Business Editor

Something which, in my opinion, was very much in need of being said has been written in the March Monthly Review of the Bank of Nova Scotia.

The bank deals with the inadequacy of [illegible] cial capital' — the money that is required to provide schools, hospitals, roads and other forms of social construction for our growing economy and population.

Streets and highways are not capable of handling the growing volume of traffic; school boards are harassed by lack of classroom space for the rising tide of youngsters; and in most places hospital beds are inadequate to meet the demand.

"Why", asks the bank, "In a country that has been undergoing a period of unparalleled economic expansion, should financing the construction of adequate social facilities present such apparently thorny problems?"

It continues, "Though Canada as a nation is well able to provide adequate social facilities and services, the complicated division of responsibilities among federal, provincial and local governments gives rise to certain very real problems."

Here are some of them. By the early sixties the children of school age will be up 70 per cent from 1945, while already in British Columbia the increase is 64 per cent.

The nation is short of about 23,000 hospital beds, chiefly, it is true, in the east.

On roads Canada has spent more than $1,000,000,000 since 1946, but it is estimated that as much again is needed immediately.

Of Canada's 515,000 miles of roads, only 6 per cent are paved and less than 40 per cent are surfaced even with gravel.

In addition, the Bank of Nova Scotia says that social capital is needed for parks, libraries, churches, homes for the aged, sanitary sewage systems and waterworks.

Outlays for social construction could be counted on as a major sustaining influence in the event of an economic downturn, says the bank, but it points out that then local and provincial governments would feel the pinch quickly and financing problems would be serious. At that point well-thought out and co-ordinated federal-provincial policies would be of crucial importance.

GROWERS WINE CO. OFFERS "A" SHARES

Details of the "New Management" sign under which the Growers' Wine Company Ltd., of Victoria is now operating were given by new president Francis V. Lamb, former bank manager in Vancouver.

The reorganized company is now offering 129,538 class "A" shares with a fixed annual dividend of 40 cents at a price of $6.50.

The "A" shares will not carry voting privileges, except in certain circumstances, and will be exchangeable at any time into "B" stock on a share for share basis.

Dividend requirements for the new "A" shares amount to $55,047 a year, and for the last full period of 12 months for which figures are available the net income was $204,412.

Late last year, directors of Growers Wine Co. Ltd., headed by John Peden and Herbert Anscomb informed shareholders they intended to accept an offer of $4.90 a share for their holdings, and they advised shareholders to do likewise.

All but some 26,000 of the 367,000 shares were sold at the offered price.

Holders of the old shares will receive a half of one "A" share and a half of one "B" for each old share held. They have also received a redeemable preference share of $2.20 a share.

In its prospectus the new company states that Growers Wine with its four wineries in Victoria and Vancouver is the largest producer of wines in Canada, west of Ontario, and is the largest producer of loganberry wine in Canada.

About 1,600,000 gallons of wine are in storage at various stages of aging.

Mr. Lumb states that with the expected advent of Califor- [illegible] nia wines it is anticipated that advertising the attractiveness of wine will considerably broaden the market, but any increase in the company's sales will probably be limited to the amount of maturing wines ready for sale.

In addition to Mr. Lumb, the board of directors consists of A. D. Lauder, vice-president, Herbert Anscombe, Coleman E. Hall and Ernest B. Bull, with Charles R. Fawcett as secretary.

Mr. Anscombe, former managing director will continue for a period with the company as a director and has been retained in a consultant capacity. Mr. Hall is owner of the Vancouver Canucks hockey team.

Gold Depressed On Paris Market

PARIS (Reuters) - Selling pressure pushed values down to record low levels on the French gold market this week in the first burst of activity in months. Trading centred on ingots.

The selling pressure was mainly speculative with bears operating on rumors that the French treasury was to float a loan based on a Napoleon priced at 2,500 francs. There was also some switching from gold into stocks.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The temperature rose to 84 degrees Thursday, hottest March 31 in history here. The old record was 83 set in 1907 and tied in 1914. Still warmer weather is forecast for the week end.

Council Passes Year's Budget For Ladysmith

LADYSMITH—A 1955 budget amounting to $89,820 was passed this week by city council. A tax rate of [illegible] mills was set, comprising 22 mills for schools and eight mills for general expenses.

Ladysmith's share of operating costs of School District 67 is $29,451 this year. Government grants are expected to total $29 400.

Waterworks receipts are expected to total $20,000, with expenditures $17,320. Trade license fees are expected to bring in $3,000; sewer tax and rental, $2,400; garbage fees, $3 000.

Some $20,549 has been earmarked for the public works department, $4 400 for fire protection, $3,100 for hospitals, $5,000 for police, $4,320 for administrative salaries, and $5,000 for administrative expenditures.

* * *

LADYSMITH — A total of $814 has been collected so far in the Ladysmith Red Cross fund drive, chairman George P. Grant stated in a report this week to president Mrs. J. W. Campbell. This amount doesn't include payroll deductions due to come in April.

* * *

CAMPBELL RIVER — A public panel discussion on cancer will be held April 22 at Campellton Elementary School, it was announced at a meeting Thursday of the Campbell River Cancer Society.

Mrs. Joseph Bundy will conduct the society's drive for funds from April 23 to April 30.

CAMPBELL RIVER — Rev. C. Leighton Streight of the United Church officiated at funeral services yesterday for Melville Haigh, who died Tuesday after living for many years at Campbell River.

Old-time residents served as pallbearers, including Allan Bunting, Alex McLean, Joseph Meredith, Oscar Thulin, Carl O. Thulin and H. A. Regan of Courtenay.

James Oakman, formerly of Victoria, was soloist.

Members of the Rotary Club, the Kinsmen Club and village commissioners attended, together with many long-time residents of the village.

IWA Official Raps Contract Proposals

PORT ALBERNI—Contract changes sought by employers in the lumber industry are designed to weaken the bargaining power of the union, Jack Moore, financial secretary of IWA Local 1-85, charged here this week.

He claimed that employers are trying to change grievance procedure so that each step of a grievance must be taken within 14 days of the step preceding it, and wish to exempt casual employees and students from provisions regarding union security.

Mr Moore referred to a company proposal that the work week be extended into Saturday at straight time rates if a day is lost during the week, and that a six-day, 48-hour week be allowed in logging operations. He said employers wish to increase board and lodging rates in logging operations.

"The companies," he declared, "apparently desire to break down the established 40-hour work week and the payment of overtime rates for Saturdays. Once again it is the logging section of the industry which the operators would hit the hardest."

LADYSMITH—Club '44 this week sponsored a successful interior decorating demonstration tea with a do-it-yourself theme. Mrs. Clarence Knight, president, said proceeds will go to the club's current project, furnishing a room in the new hospital.

Recreation Chief Has Wide Talents

NANAIMO—Alfred Kristianson, who will take the post of superintendent of recreation in Nanaimo, May 1, is a man of many talents.

A native of Denmark, he made his debut as a concert singer in Copenhagen in 1948. Two years later he won top honors as a singer in the Associated Canadian Travelers' Search for Talent. He has conducted church and community choirs and arranged and conducted broadcasts.

He is also a sculptor and is a member of the Permanent Exhibition in Copenhagen and the Edmonton Art Club.

He teaches handicrafts to polio patients and retarded children in Edmonton.

During more than four years with the Edmonton Recreation Commission he has organized all types of recreation programs and has been playground, community centre and day camp leader.

Married, with five children, Mr Kristianson is a toolmaker and machinist.

NANAIMO—An increase of 80 entries over last event in 1942 features the Upper Island Music Festival to be held in Nanaimo this month.

Revival of the festival has exceeded the most optimistic hopes of officials, who state that the program will include 100 classes including piano, voice, choirs, elocution, instrumental and dancing.

Program committee balloted on 282 entries in order to establish a strictly fair method of selecting order of appearance.

SALTAIR — Saltair Garden Club has a special program arranged for its meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday in Sunny Service Hall when 50 color slides of show flowers will be shown.

The Saltair club has recently been augmented by members from Ladysmith's former garden club which was disbanded.

Ian Stevenson of Cowichan was runner-up in the tractor plowing competition this week at the Chilliwack Plowing Society's annual all-class plowing match.

Mr. Stevenson had a score of 82 compared to 93.2 marks obtained by the winner, Hugh Baird of Blackwater, Ont.

Questions Not Anticipated

Reeve Scores School Board For Failure To Supply Data

DUNCAN—Failure of school trustees of District 65 (Cowichan) to answer pertinent questions about a $727,800 school building by-law, was termed "most unfortunate" and "very regrettable" by Reeve C. A. P. Murison of North Cowichan.

The school board met with councils of Duncan and North Cowichan and representatives of the unorganized area "to gain the support of the councils for the extensive building program which the board wants to launch."

Reeve Murison wanted full details of the number of classrooms now operating, the number of vacant classrooms and the operating costs of the school district when the full building program is completed.

G. E. Bonner, board chairman, said these questions had not been anticipated, but answers were all in the files at the school board office. He offered to give details to another meeting.

Reeve Murison said answers should be sent to the councils so they could discuss the by-law.

"Our ratepayers are certainly going to ask us questions and I am merely trying to get the answers to the questions I an[illegible]

The by-law is scheduled to go to the ratepayers April 23.

Publicity Staff Visits Duncan

DUNCAN—Staff of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau visited the Duncan Chamber of Commerce office yesterday on the way up-island for stops at Nanaimo, the Albernis and Campbell River.

The party, led by Mrs. George I. Warren included Mrs. Shirley Chubb, Miss Mary Wood, Miss Sheila Fraser and Miss Rose Marie Devlin.

On their return Monday, the girls will be presented by H. R Matthews with Siwash touques, a form of Indian beret, to advertise the Cowichan district.

'Longstocking' Gets Support

DUNCAN—A pair of men's garters for the ankle socks of a "Longstocking" teacher came through the mail Thursday for Miss Dorothy Geoghegan, teacher at Queen Margaret's School for Girls.

In the current issue of Maclean's magazine, Miss Geoghegan and Miss Norah Denny, headmistress of the school, are pictured in their office. Miss Geoghegan is shown with a pair of ankle socks drooping around her boot tops, apparently caused some reader to mail her the garters.

Miss Denny explained the magazine photographer fooled them.

"Miss Geoghegan was rushing to class, she said, "and we did not think the photo would be any more than head and shoulders."

Told that the story of the unusual gift would be published, she said:

"And why not? Everybody is laughing about it anyway. We think it is a great joke."

HAMBURG (Reuters) — The West German Airline Lufthansa began regular passenger flights Friday. Two Convair airliners set out from Munich and Hamburg on the inaugural flights. Lufthansa officials were among 29 passengers on the plane that left Fuhlsbuettel airfield here for Munich.

New Building Planned By Nanaimo Chamber

NANAIMO—Nanaimo Chamber of Commerce has authorized the calling of tenders among local contractors for construction of a building on a triangular lot at the intersection of Terminal Avenue and Nichol Street, which will house a tourist information office, business office and committee room.

A special committee has been set up to handle the project comprised of E. L. Hodson, Charles Metcalfe, Jack Evans and Hugh Wilson. Norman Eusanio is in charge of the construction committee, Rex Covey, ways and means committee, and Robert Johnson, finance.

Until the building is completed the chamber will operate a tourist information office only. After completion of the building, tourist promotion with other Island chambers will be undertaken.

MORE AID ASKED

City council was asked to boost its financial assistance to the chamber this year in view of this building project.

Shelby Saunders, chairman of the harbor committee of the chamber reported to the annual meeting that his committee was still actively engaged trying to obtain a second berth and added facilities at the Nanaimo assembly wharf.

OFFICERS NAMED

E. L. Hodson, branch manager of the Bank of Montreal here, was unanimously elected president of the association. Retiring president is Doug Greer. Others elected are Joe Morley and Floyd Warner, vice-presidents; R. L. Johnson, treasurer.

Fourteen were elected from 18 nominated for the executive. They are S. M. Saunders, Hugh Wilson, Hugh R. Heath, James Asseltine, William Lupton, D. E. Jones, Lionel Huxtable, Norman Madill, Charles Metcalfe, James Helmcken, Bruce Meikle, Norman Eusanio, Ray Knight and Don Cunliffe.

Installation of officers will take place April [illegible]

Junior Choir Busy Group

Fairfield United Church's recently organized junior choir will play a large part in Eastertide services.

Under the leadership of choir director Rodney Webster, they will provide the music for the morning service Palm Sunday. On Easter Sunday evening they will combine with the senior choir for a musical service.

This Sunday at Fairfield, the senior choir will present Sir John Stainer's "The Crucifixion." Soloists will be C. Horwood, tenor, and H. Ireland, bass.

JURY SYSTEM

All criminal cases except minor offenses are tried by judge and jury of 12 in the Republic of Ireland.

'Gateway to Island' Suggested for Nanaimo

NANAIMO—Long known as the "Hub City," Nanaimo may soon be tagged with an even more pretentious title suggested by a former Victorian.

David E. Janes, a native of Victoria and now manager of the local office of the Vancouver Island Coach Lines, suggested that the Nanaimo Chamber of Commerce change the city's slogan to "Gateway to the Island."

Athletics Lead Western Final After 81-69 First-Game Win

BY DOUG PEDEN
(Colonist Staff Writer)

ALBERNI—Alberni Athletics, who may have met their sternest test on the way to the Canadian senior "A" men's basketball championship when they edged Vancouver Clover Leafs in the B.C. final, got away to a good finals here Friday night.

Matched against Edmonton Towne Hallers, the club that eliminated last year's Canadian champions, Winnipeg Paulins, the hustling Athletics breezed to an 81-69 victory over the weary Alberta team in the first game of a best-of-five series.

Athletics now must be ranked solid favorites to move past Edmonton and gain a berth in the Dominion final against the Eastern Canada representative. Second game of the series will be played tonight and the third game is scheduled Monday.

TIRED TEAM

About 1,200 noisy fans from this basketball-conscious town packed the gym to the rafters Friday night and watched the Athletics grab an early lead against the travel-weary Towne Hallers, who arrived here Friday afternoon at 3 after an all-night train ride to Vancouver.

Sparked by the floor play of coach Elmer Speidel and the uncanny shooting of Ron Bissett, the Athletics grabbed a 21-11 lead at the 12-minute mark and held a 32-28 edge at half-time. Edmonton showed some life in the early minutes of the second half but the Athletics opened up a 12-point bulge at 46-34 and the outcome was never in doubt as they added steadily to their margin.

USE ZONE

Alberni's solid zone defense and fast-breaking attack were proved the downfall of Edmonton and the Towne Hallers will have to overcome both if they are to remain in contention.

The losers, who used a balanced floor with big Ed Lucht in the bucket, couldn't get their forwards loose in the corners and at no time did they appear to have solved the effective zone. The six-foot, seven-inch centre was starved for the ball and Edmonton had to rely mainly on long shots and jump shots from outside the key.

On the other hand, Alberni worked its fast-breaking attack well and shook players loose time and again for quick baskets. The threat was always present and the winners had what was needed when they needed it most.

BISSETT GOOD

Bissett, probably the outstanding player on the floor, led both teams with 22 points, was a standout in rebound-grabbing and set up his mates repeatedly with accurate passes. He worked particularly well with Al Brown who contributed 13 points with his best effort in several games.

Although below par on his shooting, Speidel was the floor general who kept the Alberni attack clicking while Doug Brinham turned in an aggressive effort and was the game's second highest scorer with 17 points.

Guard Bill Price held Towne Hallers together in the first half, keeping his club close with several long shots and picking up 16 points for the night. Don MacIntosh carried most of the load in the second half while Steve Mendryk, a member of Edmonton Eskimos' football team, turned in a solid game until fouling out midway through the second half.

FIRST BASKET

Otto Kruger gave Edmonton its only lead with the first basket of the game but Joe Samarin tied it up and Brown put Alberni ahead to stay. Holding a four-point lead going into the second half, Brown and Bissett matched two baskets by Lucht, then Bissett got two field goals, Brinham one and Brown one as the As scored six times in as many shots.

Edmonton picked up 12 of its 28 points in the first half on foul shots and wound up with 25 of 37 attempts. Alberni hit for 16 of 26 attempts and lost only Brinham on five fouls.

Edmonton coach Gord MacLachlan had little to say after the game except that his club would play better tonight.

"I couldn't understand why they didn't get the ball into Lucht. He is good for 20 points any night," he said.

Speidel was cautious in the noisy Alberni dressing room and figured that the Athletics would get more opposition tonight.

"We will keep using the zone until they break it," he added.

Line-ups follow:

Edmonton—Ed Lucht 11, Don MacIntosh 15, Bill Price 16, Steve Mendryk 7, Roland Cook, Norm Kimbal 4, Ross Turner, Hobie Clark, Dunc McCallum, Jim MacRae 1, Otto Kruger 11. Total—[illegible]

Alberni—Elmer Speidel 14, Ron Bissett 22, Doug Brinham 17, Joe Samarin 8, Al Brown 13, John Grabnigi 1, Harry Kermode 4, John Kr[illegible] 2, Joe Buchanan, Laurie Veitch [illegible]. Total 81.

Nanaimo Sons Sign McNulty

NANAIMO (BUP)—Nanaimo's Mann Cup stock took a sudden jump Friday morning when IWA Timbermen of the Inter-City Lacrosse Loop announced the signing of Jim McNulty.

A big gun in the east last year, McNulty led his league in scoring with 50 goals and 48 assists.

He has been in senior company for six years, sharing his time between Hamilton Tigers, Toronto Yorks, Orillia Terriers, St. Catharines and Peterborough.

He was playing with Peterborough last year when the Trailermen defeated Victoria in the Mann Cup finals.

Ex-Champion

JOHNNY SAXTON

Saxton Dethroned By Tony DeMarco

BY OSCAR FRALEY

BOSTON (UP)—Rugged Tony DeMarco, bleeding and badly bruised, posted one of the ring's major upsets Friday night when he scored a technical knockout over Johnny Saxton in two minutes and 20 seconds of the 14th round to become the welterweight champion of the world.

A 2-to-1 underdog before a disappointing crowd of 8,701 at smoke-filled Boston Garden, DeMarco spotted the favored Saxton a big early edge and then came on strong in the late rounds to put the New Yorker out on his feet, helplessly taking brutal punishment until referee Mel Manning stepped in and raised the Boston strong boy's hand in victory.

It was Saxton's first defense of the crown which he won from veteran Kid Gavilan last October and the hard-hitting champion afraid of a "home-town decision" had promised to knock out DeMarco by the 10th or 11th round.

But he was lucky to last into the 14th round himself as the rugged DeMarco, cut under the left eye in the second and bleeding freely from the nose in the third, fought grimly back and with blasting head shots, had Saxton groggy in the 9th and 12th rounds.

Then, as they went into the 14th the bulling DeMarco drove Saxton into the ropes and sent him crashing to the canvas for a nine count. Saxton was hardly up when the swarthy 23-year-old—going 15 rounds for the first time in his career—caught him with an explosive right to the chin. It nailed Saxton upright in his own corner and then DeMarco battered him savagely.

Saxton would have fallen but he was held upright, arms hanging at his sides, as DeMarco kept him from falling from the sheer power of those unblocked punches.

BRUTAL BEATING

Saxton's head rocked from side to side as punches hammered home. His eyes were closed and if DeMarco had stepped back, Saxton undoubtedly would have fallen. But DeMarco kept driving him almost upward until Manning stepped in and raised his hand in token of a stunning victory.

Saxton, winner of 48 of his previous 53 bouts, held a one-half pound weight advantage over the 145-pound DeMarco. He also had a three-inch reach advantage over 23-year-old Tony, who had won 40 of 45 bouts before tonight.

That seemed to be all the difference he needed after a cautious first round in which DeMarco took a slight lead because Saxton came on then and won five of the next six rounds with a rapier-like left which cut and bruised the charging DeMarco.

Toski Scores Record 63; Only Second

WILMINGTON, N.C. (UP)—Defending champion Bob Toski of Livingston, N.J., broke the Azalea Golf Tournament 18-hole record Friday with a brilliant nine-under-par 63 but had to settle for a second-place tie, one stroke behind Billy Maxwell at the end of the second round.

Maxwell added a 68 to his opening day 65 to reach the 36-hole point with a total of 133.

Toski and Mike Souchak tied for second with totals of 134.

Toski knocked one stroke off the record held jointly by Paul O'Leary and Marty Furgol with the help of nearly perfect putting. He sank eight long putts, ranging from 10 to 60 feet.

Tied four strokes back of the leader at 137 are Eric Monti, Doug Ford, Jay Hebert, Fred Haas, Bob Rosburg, and Bob Inman.

Fight Judges Disciplined

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Both judges who gave Gil Cadilli a booed decision over Willie Pep in their televised fight Wednesday have been disciplined by the California athletic commission.

Commissioner Joe Phillips said Friday Eddie James' name was removed from the judges' list. Tony Bosnich, former fighter breaking in as an official, was placed on probation.

James and Bosnich each gave Cadilli the fight 56-54. Referee Jack Downey voted 58-52 for Pep, former featherweight king.

Promising Ian Fraser Takes Five-Mile Run

Grabbing an early lead and holding it all the way, 15-year-old Ian Fraser won his second major long distance title of the year yesterday when he topped a classy field in the second annual Vancouver Island junior long distance championship.

The slim, long-striding Victoria High School student, who is regarded as a top prospect in provincial long distance circles, traveled the tough five-mile course in 24 minutes and seven seconds and finished strongly with a 20-yard lead over Jim Pickup, also of Victoria High.

Jim Moore, former Victoria High runner who is now attending Victoria College, took third place in 24.25 while Gordie Eve of Milnes Landing was a strong fourth.

A total of 22 runners competed for the 15 Canadian Legion awards over a hilly course that started at Victoria High, extended to the base of Mt. Tolmie and wound back to the city institution.

SECOND TITLE

Fraser, in his first year of competition, ran so effortless race as he added the Island championship to the B.C. title he won in Vancouver three weeks ago. The long-legged youngster was forced out of last week's invitational race against Queen Elizabeth of New Westminster because of a leg injury.

Runners from Belmont, Sooke, Normal School, Victoria High and Victoria College took part but three competitors from Alberni were unable to make the trip because of influenza.

Col. E. Parker of the Canadian Legion presented trophies to the first three finishers and special awards to the next 12 runners in a brief ceremony in the school immediately following the race, which was watched by a good crowd.

Other top finishers: 5. Harry Stephens, Victoria College; 6—John Gilliland, Victoria High; 7 Mike Chambers, Normal School; 8 Barry Hagen, Victoria High; 9 Wilbert Jay, Victoria High; 10—John Hill, Victoria College.

Victorians Charter Members Of New Athletic Hall of Fame

Two Victorians, Norm Baker and Dave Turner, who rank among the great stars of their respective sports, basketball and soccer, will be among the first Canadian athletes to be honored in a permanent Hall of Fame to be set up in Toronto by the Canadian National Exhibition.

Officials of the CNE announced yesterday their decision to honor Canada's outstanding athletes, amateur and professional, by setting up the new Hall of Fame.

The hall will be opened this year at the CNE and the first honored "guests" will be the men and women chosen as outstanding in the various sports in the Canadian Press half-century poll conducted in 1950.

It is the first time in the history of Canadian sports that such a shrine has been set up to honor the country's greats.

"The nucleus of the Hall of Fame will be made up of those great athletes chosen by The Canadian Press in its half-century poll," sports chairman Harry I. Price of the CNE told a press conference.

"We shall start from there and build it up yearly," he added.

Price said the proposed Hall of Fame would not interfere with the Hockey Hall of Fame to be set up at Kingston, Ont., or the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada Hall of Fame. "We'll work hand and hand with these institutions in giving a place of honor to the men and women who have brought credit to Canada in athletic endeavors," he said.

The roll of those to be honored this year includes the late Lionel Conacher, Canada's outstanding all-round male athlete and the country's football great of the half-century, and Bobbie Rosenfeld of Toronto, Canada's all-round outstanding female athlete.

Others are:

Track and field—Percy Williams, Vancouver.

Basketball—Norm Baker, Victoria, B.C.

Golf—Rosa (Sandy) Somerville, London, Ont.

Hockey—The late Howie Morenz, Mitchell, Ont.

Lacrosse—Newsy Lalonde, Cornwall, Ont.

Rowing—The late Joe Wright, Sr., Toronto.

Swimming—George Young, Toronto.

Tennis—The late Dr. Jack Wright, Vancouver.

Soccer—Dave Turner, Victoria, B.C.

Boxing—Jimmy McLarnin, Vancouver.

Jack Purcell of Toronto, who dominated Canadian badminton for 15 years and scaled world heights in the game was chosen as top man in the miscellaneous sports division in the 1950 CP poll and he also will be honored.

Softball Loop May Increase By Two Teams

Victoria's senior "A" men's softball league, which will open the 1955 season the first week in May, may expand to a seven team league this year.

Five teams, Navy, Arrow Furniture, Chinese Students, Fletchers and Duncan, have returned while representatives from Tillicums and Butler Brothers were on hand at the annual general meeting held Thursday night.

Butlers dropped out of competition last season but held their franchise open for a year and were represented at the meeting by Whitey Turner.

Tillicums, last year's senior "B" league champions, also were interested in moving into faster company.

League officials are expected to make a final decision at a meeting Wednesday night.

Jimm Lackie was returned as president and Leon Hall was named secretary-treasurer.

Graham Bested Again By Younger Opponent

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (UP)—Young Chico Vejar of Stamford, Conn., fought off a late rally by Billy Graham to gain a unanimous decision over the ring-wise New Yorker Friday night in their nationally televised 10-round bout.

Vejar weighed 154½ in gaining his second straight victory over the one-time welterweight challenger, who scaled 149½.

Exactly four weeks ago, Vejar registered a split decision over Graham at New York but this time the Connecticut youth was on top all the way.

Graham, who is 32 years old and has been fighting professionally almost 14 years, simply could not keep pace with his 23-year-old opponent. He rallied briefly in the eighth round when he stopped Vejar in his tracks with rights to the head and body, but that was Irish Billy's only sustained attack.

IN CHARGE

Vejar sparred cautiously in the first round, then took command in the second and never let up. He kept Graham backtracking with his forcing attacks and crisp left jabs.

In the sixth, Graham was staggered by a right to the head and appeared to be in trouble. However, Vejar was unable to floor his elusive, cunning rival.

Referee Ray Miller favored Vejar in rounds, 5-4-1. Judge Jack Kimball had it 6-3-1 and Judge Ted Shields scored it 8-1-1 in Vejar's favor.

It was the 60th victory in 65 fights for Vejar. Graham suffered his 15th setback in 128 bouts.

Indians Unleash Power To Batter Giants, 15-3

Uncorking their most potent batting attack of the spring exhibition baseball schedule, Cleveland Indians raked New York Giants pitching for 11 hits and a 15-3 victory to square their series at six games apiece.

Larry Doby, Al Smith, Al Rosen and pitcher Bob Lemon all hit home runs as the Indians chalked up their second straight victory over the world champions.

* * *

Milwaukee Braves broke loose for two big scoring innings against the Brooklyn Dodgers' two top southpaws to score a 9-5 victory and tie the series between the National League rivals at three wins apiece.

Karl Spooner, the fastballing rookie who fanned 27 batters in two games last season, was tagged for three runs in the first inning when first-baseman Joe Adcock smacked a three-run homer.

* * *

Slugging Ted Kluszewski poled a three-run homer and added two doubles but his efforts were in a losing cause as the Washington Senators edged Cincinnati, 5-4, for their third straight triumph over the Redlegs.

A grand-slam home run by Walt Dropo in the first inning got the Chicago White Sox away to a good start and the American League club carried on to a 9-0 victory over St. Louis Cardinals in a six-inning game halted by rain.

Jack Harshman pitched four scoreless innings for the White Sox.

Hockey Injury Proves Fatal To Youngster

OTTAWA (CP)—Don McNabb, 20-year-old defenceman with Eastview St. Charles of the Ottawa Junior City Hockey League died in hospital Friday from a thrombosis in his right leg.

McNabb underwent an operation last week when doctors discovered the blood clot. They first believed he had contracted pleurisy.

The blood clot was believed to be the result of a hard shot McNabb stopped in a recent playoff game with Ottawa Shamrocks.

The injury was at the back of the leg near the thigh. Part of the clot moved up to his lungs, causing complications.

Replays Set

GLASGOW (Reuters)—The Scottish Football Association Cup semi-finals, both games of which ended in 2-2 ties March 26, will be replayed next Monday.

Airdrieonians will meet Celtic in Glasgow and Clyde will play Aberdeen in Edinburgh.

The cup final will be held Saturday, April 23.

Better Rental For Royals To Save Club

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mayor Fred Hume has announced that the Western Hockey League franchise of New Westminster Royals will be put up for sale unless a better rental deal can be made for Queens Park Arena.

Mayor Hume, owner of an electrical contracting firm, is co-owner of the Royals with Ken Mackenzie.

He made the statement after learning Mackenzie had failed to reach agreement with the New Westminster park board, operators of the arena.

Royals were given a better rental deal January 1 when they were in danger of folding. After January 1 they turned over 12 per cent of the gate instead of 20.

Handsome Meat Porter Latest O.C. Ring Hope

LONDON (CP)—Ron Barton, Britain's latest boxing idol, is a two-fisted young meat porter with an unmarred professional career and a profile that has the girl fans hanging on the ropes.

At 22, the "Handsome Hammer" from West Ham has won 16 light-heavyweight pro fights in less than 18 months, scoring six knockouts, six technical knockouts and four wins by decisions.

His polished performance in disposing of his latest victim, Spaniard Ramon Martinez, won newspaper plaudits all round. Barton floored the former Spanish champ in five minutes, 35 seconds—he had not been knocked out in any of his previous 47 fights—and manager Arthur Boggis immediately announced a six-week holiday.

"Barton has it all, but it's a tough job taking a boy like him to the top these days," says Boggis.

"There are so few good fighters around that a boy has only to win two or three bouts and he's in danger of being rushed into a title fight."

Boggis says he will try to line up a title match with European champion Willi Hoepner of Germany in May. But Barton, a tall, curly-haired 173-pound hunk of bachelorhood who lugs sides of beef around the big Smithfield meat market, also has his eye on the result of a fight next month.

Alex Buxton, the British light-heavyweight champion, meets fading Randy Turpin who still holds the Empire crown in that class and Barton would like to take on the winner.

"But that might take months and months to arrange," said Boggis.

Heavyweight Don Cockell, who fights world champion Rocky Marciano shortly, and Welsh flyweight Dai Dower are carrying Britain's immediate boxing hopes between them.

Accordingly, Barton's sudden rise to prominence and the way he handles himself in the ring has aroused a lot of interest.

He's credited with a slick left and a crushing right hand. A former Amateur Boxing Association champion, he lost only seven of his 127 amateur bouts and won 70 by knockouts.

ONE QUALITY—THE BEST

Doleful Coach Claims Habs Should Be Easy

MONTREAL (CP)—Doleful Dick Irvin, wallowing comfortably in despair, said Friday his Canadiens are the weakest team ever to face Detroit Red Wings.

The silver-haired Montreal coach called his players to- to their departure for Detroit Friday night. The first two games of the best-of-seven Stanley Cup final will be played there Sunday and Tuesday, the next two games the following Thursday and Saturday in Montreal.

Further dates, as necessary, will be set later by the National Hockey League.

When the conference was over Irvin was holding his head.

"Only nine forwards and four defensemen, that's our team for the cup final," he said. He wasn't counting George McAvoy, recently signed defenseman from Penticton Vs, world tournament winners. McAvoy saw only brief action in one game against Boston Bruins in the semi-final won by Canadiens four games to one.

"We're the weakest Montreal team—certainly the weakest in manpower the Red Wings have ever met," said Irvin.

SHOO-IN FOR WINGS?

"If one of our men gets hurt, the Red Wings have a shoo-in. They have 17 of the 18 players they had last year when they beat us in overtime of the seventh game; the whole team really intact . . .

"Detroit didn't let players go this year, like we did, to help other clubs. We lost Eddie Litzenberger, Bucky Hollingworth, Lorne Davis and Johnny McCormack.

"Detroit let Metro Prystai go to Chicago, that's all. Even then of the Wings, screamed an appeal for sympathy.

"We lost Paul Meger and Jim MacPherson through injuries, two more bad blows for us."

His shoulders sagging, chin on his chest, Irvin walked sadly away. Three minutes later he ghosted out of the gloomiest corner in the Montreal Forum.

"I forgot one name," he croaked.

"Who's thot?"

"Fellow by the name of Richard."

Church Aghast At Huge Sum Bet in Pools

LONDON (AP) — Britons poured out a total of £550,000,000 ($1,540,000,000) on gambling in 1954, the British churches' committee on gambling said in its annual report.

That total compared with £602,000,000 ($1,685,000,000) in 1953. Only in the case of football pools betting was there an increase in turnover.

"In these days of rising cost of living and incessant demands for more salaries and wages, it is a grave reflection both on our national common sense and morality that 12,000,000 to 14,000,000 people send to the football pools every week approximately £1,600,000 ($4,480,000)," the report said.

The total outlay on football pool betting in 1954 was £74,000,000 ($207,200,000).

Orioles Certain To Change Feathers Often As Richards Tussles with Uncertain Talent

This is the final article of the United Press series on the 1955 prospects of major league baseball teams.

BY LEO H. PETERSEN

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (UP)—Paul Richards is rebuilding the Baltimore Orioles from the bottom up with a mass turnover of players, and he hopes to finish in the first division. It appears he may be aiming too high although he declares confidently that "we'll finish in the middle of the pack."

POOR SCORERS

He is going to out-platoon Casey Stengel of the Yankees this season, using two different players at every position except right field and catcher. The veteran Gene Woodling, a hero in many of the Yankee victories when Stengel led the club to five consecutive world series triumphs, will play right field against all comers. Otherwise, the opposing pitcher will decide Richards' lineup.

When left handers go against the Orioles, it will be Gus Triandos at first; Billy Cox, the former star third baseman of the Dodgers, at second; Willie Miranda, a switch-hitter, at short, and one of two veterans, Vern Stephens or Bob Kennedy at third.

Against right-handers, Eddie Waitkus will take over at first; Bobby Young at second; Cox at short and either the veteran Johnny Pesky or rookie Don Leppert at third. Leppert, who hit .313 with Birmingham last season has been the most impressive of the young infield candidates.

In the outfield it will be Hoot Evers and Gil Coan alternating in left and Cal Abrams and Chuck Diering in centre. All four are major league castoffs. Evers and Diering will go against southpaw pitching Coan and Abrams, who hit .293 for the Orioles last season after they picked him up from the Pirates, against righties.

Hal Smith, one of the nine players Richards acquired in that million dollar deal with the Yankees, will be the No. 1 catcher, with two veterans, Matt Batts and Les Moss, in reserve. Smith hit .350 at Columbus last season and has a chance to become one of the outstanding catchers in the league.

As a matter of fact, Richards would not have let pitchers Bob Turley and Don Larsen and shortstop Billy Hunter go to the Yankees unless Smith was included in the deal.

Three pitchers obtained from the Yankees—Jim McDonald (4-1), Harry Byrd (9-7) and Bill Miller (0-1)—figure to be starters, along with holdovers Duane Pillette (10-14), Joe Coleman (13-17), and Erv Palica, the ex-Dodger who won only three games for Brooklyn in 1954. McDonald has looked the sharpest of all the hurlers so far and Byrd also has shown signs of coming to life.

Three rookies—Bob Alexander, Don Ferrarese and Ron Duren—have a chance to stick although Richards admits all three of them may need another year in the minors. Alexander won 10 at Portland in the Pacific Coast League last season; Ferrarese was an 18-game winner at Oakland and Duren, a fast-baller, won 14 at San Antonio.

For relief, Richards is banking on southpaw Bob Kuzava, another ex-Yankee who won only two games while losing six with the Orioles and Yankees last season, and right-hander Jon Johnson, an eight-game winner with the White Sox. Saul Rogovin, who was shipped to the minors after having one good season under Richards with the White Sox, and Ray Moore, an eight-game winner with St. Paul, are other pitching possibilities.

Sunday Shoot

Second legs of five skeet trophies will be shot at the Victoria Gun Club's Albert Head Road grounds Sunday starting at 1.

Trophies to be contested are the CIL Shield, class "A;" Roger Monteith, class "B;" Farmer Construction Perpetual, class "C," and Wilson and Lenfesty, class "D."

Tie for Medal

Mrs. C. Denham and Mrs. H. Valo, both of the Colwood Golf Club, tied for medal honors in the qualifying round of the annual Canadian Ladies' Golf Union handicap competition at Uplands yesterday.

First round of match play will get under way in two weeks.

Chase Brings $175 Fine

A joy-riding soldier who has been in the army just nine weeks was fined $175 or two months in jail yesterday on two charges laid after a wild 70-mile an hour race against police.

He lost his license for six months.

Esquimalt court heard that Reginald Pompana, about 23, of Work Point Barracks nearly overturned a car he took without the owner's consent.

Pompana pleaded guilty to taking the car and also to dangerous driving about 7 a.m. Thursday.

Esquimalt police said they chased the soldier from Head Street through military property. They said he made several attempts at quick stops to force the police car into collision with him.

Near Dunsmuir and Esquimalt, police said, Pompana's speeding car was slammed to a stop, made two complete turns and nearly overturned.

[illegible] took the car of Leonard Ledoux, Ahlebury, from an open garage at 847 Old Esquimalt Road.

He was later chased through Victoria city and into Saanich, where police shot out a rear tire and forced the car to a stop.

Pompana faces a dangerous driving charge in city court Monday.

Garth M. Gilbert, RCAF, Tofino, pleaded guilty to careless driving March 18 when his car struck a parked truck at Rudlin Street near Camosun. He was fined $35.

Joseph M. Champoux, HMCS Naden, was fined $25 for driving without a license.

Kenneth E. Walsh, 316 Douglas, was fined a similar amount for not displaying 1955 license plates.

Minimum Wages Boosted

The provincial labor department has boosted the minimum wage in the con- [illegible] about 90 cents to $1.50 an hour for tradesmen and from 85 cents to $1 an hour for laborers. But officials point out no large section of labor is affected.

Labor Minister Lyle Wicks said yesterday the new minimums are incorporated in a new wage order approved yesterday by the cabinet. It consolidates five separate orders.

Mr Wicks said the consolidation will be appreciated by employers who are required to post copies of the orders and by employees and trade unions who have had to deal with several different orders when trying to obtain information on minimum wages and working conditions.

"We are now getting it down to something people can understand," Mr. Wicks said.

The new order also establishes uniform minimum requirements on wages and working conditions.

AFTER HEARINGS

The changes were made, Mr. Wicks said, following a number of public hearings by the Board of Industrial Relations.

The definition of a tradesman covers a journeyman boilermaker, bricklayer, carpenter, electrician, elevator constructor, pipe-fitter, plumber, steel fabricator and erector, terrazo mechanic, tile-setter and welder.

Actual union scales in most of the trades range from $2.25 to $2.46 an hour but the boost in the minimum's will still protect a certain number of laborers and tradesmen not so covered, the minister said.

Union Elects Island Men

Reginald Payne of Sidney and Charles Schule, Nanaimo, have been elected executive board members of the United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union.

The union in annual convention at Vancouver, re-elected H. Stavenes of Vancouver, president. He was returned by acclamation, along with all other top executives.

Other officers are Peter Jenewein, Maple Ridge, and Mrs. Mickey Beagle, New Westminster, vice-presidents; Alex Gordon, Vancouver, business agent; Homer Stevens, Ladner, secretary-treasurer.

Outside Workers On Shorter Week

A 40-hour work week went into effect yesterday for about 4,500 provincial government employees.

The improvement in working conditions was approved by the provincial cabinet some months ago.

Some employees, including firefighters, ferry crews and psychiatric nurses, will remain [illegible] receive compensatory pay increases.

The reduced work week and pay increases will cost the government about $500,000 a year.

Most of the 4,500 are outside workers. Inside workers of the civil service went on the 40-hour week in 1953.

Almost all of B.C.'s 9,500 government employees are now working the shorter week.

Check-Off Major Target

A compulsory dues check-off or some form of union security is indicated as a major contract demand in 1956 negotiations by the United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union (Ind.).

The union's annual convention at Vancouver has endorsed a resolution which would require all fishing industry workers to pay union dues whether or not they are UFAWU members.

Only major labor-management negotiations in the coast fishing industry this year is bargaining on salmon prices, to start next month. Shoreworkers and tendermen signed a two-year contract that reopens next year.

The convention heard Labor Minister Lyle Wicks say that "we have stepped out into something in which we are leaders of the rest of the world" in speaking of fishermen's newly-won workmen's compensation coverage.

"We believe we have arrived at a result satisfactory to every one," he said.

Mighty Muscles Reaching Peak for Coming Swim

Confident of success, long-distance swimmer Bert Thomas is eager to dive into the icy waters of the Strait of Juan de Fuca on the long trip from Victoria to Port Angeles. "Right now I'm at my peak," he said yesterday.

Flanked by his manager Bernie Nicholls, and navigator, Capt. Hugh Evans, Bert Thomas displays the ponderous muscles he hopes will pull him across the strait to the U.S. side. He will attempt the swim at 8 p.m., April 13, if weather is right in the unpredictable stretch of water.

A spot of "kitchen training" is indulged in by Bert Thomas as he ogles the gigantic steak being cooked for him by Mrs. Edith Reynolds in the Cherry Bank Hotel. Best foods for swimmers, he said, are steaks and milk.

Apartment Block Building Projects Moving Forward

Tenders have been called for the construction of an apartment block in Oak Bay containing seven one-bedroom suites at a cost of $45,000.

Clack and Clayton, architects, said plans were being considered for two or three other apartment blocks in the same area on Haultain near Eastdowne Road.

Rod Clack said yesterday that a contract had been let to Patterson Construction Company for the building of a six-suite bachelor apartment on Bank Street near Fort at a cost of $40,000. Builder is Mrs. A. V. King.

Oak Bay Pavilion in Carnarvon Park will be officially opened April 7. The pavilion was built for Oak Bay municipality by Howell and Wilson at a cost of $22,000. Clack and Clayton won the architectural competition for the pavilion plans.

Four bids have been submitted for the two-room addition to Strawberry Vale School at Hastings and Delmar in Saanich. McKinty and Sons submitted the low bid of $25,489. Others were F. A. Robinson, $26,136, J. A. Pollard, $27,351, and D. C. MacLennon, $29,131. James Polson and Siddall are the architects.

For nine days the Work Point barracks gun which marks the noon and 9 p.m. hours, had not fired.

Yesterday at noon it boomed again and will continue to do so at the appointed time.

The gun is fired on the word from Gonzales Observatory. But one day last week when the weather station gave the word, there was no answering boom; only a click. Ammunition was at fault.

The military called off the time signals until ammunition could be checked and proved satisfactory.

Observatory Reopened to Public

The Dominion Astrophysical Observatory on Little Saanich Mountain will re-open its doors to the public today.

From 9 to 5 Monday through Friday visitors will be welcome.

On Saturday an astronomer will be on duty from 8 to 10 p.m. and visitors will be permitted to gaze into space through the 73-inch reflector telescope, second largest in the country. The 74-inch telescope at David Dunlop observatory, Richmond Hill, Ontario, is Canada's largest.

Dr. R. M. Petrie, director of the Saanich observatory, closed the building to the public from November to the end of March because weather conditions are generally unfavorable for observation.

Detained Couple Awaited Here

Victoria Police Chief John Blackstock is still awaiting word of a definite arrival time at Patricia Bay airport of a former city employee and his wife charged with passing a worthless cheque.

Leslie Riley, 42, assistant building inspector, and his wife, Michelle, were detained in Montreal Tuesday night, minutes before they were to have left by plane for England.

Chief Blackstock could not say whether the couple would arrive in time for today's police court at 10 a.m.

They are being escorted here by Detective Bill Andrews and Policewoman Alice Pye.

But She Still Has Teeth

Old Strait's Met Her Match Says Confident Ex-Marine

Most Beautiful?

Latest prospect in the Junior Chamber of Commerce quest for Victoria's most beautiful girl is 18-year-old Sheila Ruth Clifford, 49 Pilot Street. Dancing and music are her talents. She is 5 feet, 4½ inches tall, has brown hair, 32-inch bust, 22-inch waist, and 32-inch hips. Other contestants announced yesterday were Margaret Anna Chapman, 19, 1739 Bay Street, a model, and Josephine Martyn, 21, 201 Homer Street. Deadline for entries has been extended to Thursday.

BY PETER BRUTON

Long-distance swimmer Bert Thomas settled back with his favorite drink, appropriately named the "Belly Splash," and spoke of the vagaries of old Madame Juan de Fuca Strait.

"She might have her teeth—but she's met her master," he said, sipping his drink which contains only pop, ice, and two drops of bitters.

"And her master is our whole team," he added.

The 275-pound ex-marine from Tacoma plans to push off on the long haul from Victoria to the American side at about 8 p.m. April 13, weather permitting.

"I'd like to say right now that if the weather is unfavorable we'll definitely call it off until the next favorable tide," said Mr. Thomas.

His navigator, Capt. Hugh Evans of Island Tug and Barge, said the tides would be right April 13 and possibly 14, but not again until June.

"If my navigator calls it off, that's that," Said Mr. Thomas. "I will not go into the water until I can make it."

RIGHT MOVE

As far as the failure of Janice White to start in the swim during the past three days was concerned, both Captain Evans and Mr. Thomas agreed with the Toronto girl's navigator, Capt. Charles Goodwin.

"I wouldn't have put Bert in the water under the same conditions," said Captain Evans.

Exact course of the swim will not be released by Captain Evans until about 48 hours before the attempt is made.

The cheery swimmer, who travels long distances in a very short time, will have nothing to eat during the swim, as food takes the blood from the muscles and sends it to the stomach.

Instead, a Tacoma doctor has spent a month mapping out a plan whereby Thomas will have three choices of liquids while in the water—clear water, lemon juice and a mixture of dextrose and rum.

"You can't miss all the waves so you swallow quite a bit of sea water," said the swimmer. "The lemon juice is to cut the salt, the water is to wash it down, and the rum and dextrose is for energy."

MILK, STEAKS

At present Mr. Thomas is drinking large quantities of milk and consuming gigantic steaks as often as he can. But that's as far as his "land" training goes.

A tip from Victoria swimming coach Archie McKinnon last fall led Mr. Thomas to quaff copious quantities of milk. Mr. McKinnon told the Tacoma man it was the best way to protect a swimmer from cold water cramp.

"And, by golly, it wurks," said Mr. Thomas.

The cold water doesn't bother Mr. Thomas at all. He said he suffers no ill effects from the temperatures which hover around the 45-degree mark.

The longest period Mr. Thomas has spent in the water so far is one hour and 17 minutes. In that time he covered three and a half miles.

SUNDAY SWIM

A proposed seven-mile training swim from Trial Island, along the Dallas Road waterfront and into the Inner Harbor is planned by Mr. Thomas for Sunday. A collection will be taken up with all proceeds going to the Queen Alexandra Solarium.

If the weather is bad Mr. Thomas will still give an exhibition of some kind in the Inner Harbor.

"I'm hitting my peak right now," he said. "I'll need luck, a lot of luck, sure, but that strait isn't as hard to conquer as a great many people think."

The swimmer's manager, Bernie Nicholls of the Cherry Bank Hotel, likened Mr. Thomas to the fabulous Penticton Vs.

"Before the players went overseas they were nobodies. They went to Germany and when they came back they were heroes. Everyone wanted to get into the act."

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas will make one more trip to the U.S. before the swim. They are going down to Tacoma to bring back their 11-year-old daughter, Sharon Lee.

"I won't be in the swim unless she's here," said Mr. Thomas.

And with that, he finished his "Belly Splash" and went in to have a large T-bone steak.

Feed from Peace River Area May Cut Island Farm Costs

A method of supplying B.C. farmers with cheaper grain feed from the Peace River district is being investigated by the provincial government.

Charles Walls, secretary-manager of the B.C. Federation of Agriculture, told South Saanich Farmers' Institute last night that feed has been selling in the Fraser Valley for $15 a ton cheaper than grain imported into the province.

SUBSIDY SLASHED

B.C. farmers were hard hit recently by slashing of federal freight subsidies for grain from $10 to $5 a ton.

Mr. Walls said that a valley poultry farmer, who also has a farm in the Peace River, has been selling feed wheat for $53 a ton, while the price from a grain merchant is $68.

The farmer is sacking his wheat to the north and having it trucked down the John Hart Highway to the Lower Mainland.

Mr. Walls told last night's audience that within the last few days he brought the farmer to Victoria, where he outlined his arrangement to Agriculture Minister Kenneth Kiernan and Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi.

Police Pay Ruling Gives No Reasons

No written reasons were given in the majority report of an arbitration board which recommended a 5 per cent wage increase for Victoria Police Federal Union (TLC).

The Daily Colonist learned yesterday the report had been received by the union and Victoria Police Commission and contained only the wage increase recommendation retroactive to March 1. It was signed by chairman Robert Leach of Sidney, and union nominee Fred Dougherty of Vancouver.

The recommendation is binding upon both sides.

Minority report of J. G. Ruttan, commission nominee, is being submitted to the Labor Relations Board this week end. His recommendation is not yet known. The commission had asked a 5 per cent pay cut. The union had asked a 10 per cent pay increase.

No date has been set for a meeting of the commission, which now will be able to complete the departmental budget, tentatively submitted as $476,632.

Government Issues $7,097,107 Aid To Municipalities

BY RAY BAINES
Colonist Legislative Reporter

Municipal aid grants for 1955 totalling $7,097,107 went out yesterday from the provincial treasury to Victoria and 112 other B.C. cities and municipalities.

Victoria's share of the total under the government's new Municipalities Aid Act is $347,156. The grant is based on the 1951 population count of 51,331 persons. Saanich gets $212,386; Oak Bay, $113,260; Esquimalt, $102,418 and Central Saanich, $28,986.

Biggest slice goes to Vancouver—$1,594,540 for a 1951 population of 344,833. Burnaby gets the next largest grant of $58,376.

These amounts are expected to increase considerably after the promised census for 1956. Suburban areas around Victoria and Vancouver claim much larger populations than those of 1951.

The municipal aid grant, coupled with the new school finance formula, replaces the former distribution of one-fifth of sales tax revenues and one-third of motor vehicle license fees to municipalities.

Total grants will be $7,266,989 but the recent division of Langley into a city municipality and a township has necessitated a delay in payment of $129,862 until the population division has been straightened out.

The grants are based on the following formula: $14 per capita up to 3,500 persons, $9 per capita for the population range from 3,501 to 8,000, $6 from 8001 to 50,000, and $4.25 for more than 50,000.

ISLAND GRANTS

Grants to other Vancouver Island centres are: Alberni, $46,522; Courtenay, $35,742; Duncan, $38,976; Ladysmith, $29,316; Nanaimo $105,676; Port Alberni $88,105; North Cowichan, $77,485; Campbell River, $34,342; Comox, $10,808; Lake Cowichan, $22,792; Parksville, $12,544; Qualicum Beach, $10,794, Sidney, $14,490, Tofino, $1,228; and Ucluelet, $6,216.

The grants are computed and distributed on a calendar-year basis to synchronize with municipalities' fiscal years.

Payments are made in one sum for the year. The former sales tax and motor vehicle grants were made in two parts, with about a six-month interval between them.

POPULATION UP

If estimates in Greater Victoria of present populations are correct, all four municipalities stand to gain considerably by the 1956 census. Victoria's payment was based on a population of 51,331 but officials estimate that there are now 54,500 persons living in the city. This would mean an additional $13,600.

Oak Bay thinks its present population is about 13,000, not 11,960, the figure used by the government. On that basis Oak Bay would get another $12,000. Saanich says its population is not 28,481, but 31,500, a potential gain of $18,000. Esquimalt makes a conservative estimate of 10,750 instead of 10,153, a possible gain of only $3,800.

Any reduction in sentences imposed on Sons of Freedom Doukhobors for nude parading must be made by federal authorities, Attorney-General Robert Bonner said yesterday.

Revisions to the Criminal Code have reduced sentences for nude parading substantially.

Spring Wedding at Ladysmith Features Double-Ring Rites

An early spring wedding of wide interest was solemnized at a candlelit ceremony in First United Church, Ladysmith, recently, when Thelma Ida Sophia Spik, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore J. Spik of Ladysmith, became the bride of Robert Arthur Scho[illegible] Douglas A. Schofield, of Sandspit, Queen Charlotte Islands.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. J. Millard Alexander. During the signing of the register Gunnar Abbors of Vancouver sang "O Promise Me," accompanied by Mrs. David Mason, organist.

EXQUISITE GOWN

Given in marriage by her father, the fair-haired bride wore an exquisite gown of white silk nylon net and cotton lace over satin. Lace formed the long-sleeved bodice with yoke of finely tucked net. Tiny self-covered buttons adorned the front closing to the neckline of the small pointed collar.

Lace was used in the pointed panel inserts at the hip line, and the floor-length skirt billowed out in graceful folds.

Her lace-trimmed, illusion-net, fingertip veil was held by a coronet of seed pearls and she carried a white prayer book topped with a white orchid on satin streamers.

The bride's only jewelry was a delicate pink cameo brooch, more than 100 years old, belonging to her groom's grandmother, Mrs. Arthur Schofield, member of a Nanaimo pioneer family.

The bride's attendants wore portrait frocks of nylon net, lace and taffeta in floral colors.

Miss Frieda Ell, maid of honor, was in deep coral. Her sleeveless bolero featured the extended shoulder line.

Bridesmaids were Miss Lorraine Ingram, in blue, Miss Marilyn Matticks, of Chemainus, in soft stalk green, and Miss Nancy Greavette of Nanaimo, in mauve. They wore matching coronets of flowers and net and pastel carnations centred their cascade bouquets.

The dainty flower girl was Evelyn Lottie of Nanaimo, in [illegible] in her hair. She carried a small white basket of flowers.

Edward Lewis of Nanaimo was best man. Ushers were Eric Spik, the bride's brother; Raymond Schofield, the groom's cousin, from Victoria, and Paul Sheepwash of Wellington.

Helge Ekengren, Finnish consul in Vancouver, proposed the toast to the bride at a Swedish [illegible] guests in the Native Sons Hall.

Malcolm Mackenzie was toastmaster, and Mrs. Isabel Stewart, soloist.

For going away the bride chose a reefer-style tweed suit in the new avacado shade, bag to match, white hat and gloves and a white orchid corsage.

Following a honeymoon motoring on the Mainland the young couple will reside at 945 St. George Street, Brechin.

Beauty And You

BY MARION MATTHEWS

The very season itself is enough to dispell any depression which you may have experienced during the winter months. Right now you can say to yourself you won't permit any such feelings and once you've made up your mind you don't like being depressed, you are off to a good start. Your spirits perk up and with this your looks get a lift too.

Worry from real and imagined causes can play havoc to your health and beauty. It can change your personality and while you solve nothing with mental fears, you can lose the quick smile, bright-eyed look and even the spring in your walk.

Let the revitalizing season of spring give you pause. Are you justified in such depression? How many of these problems can you solve. Begin to eliminate their causes. Those which take patience can be endured better when you face up to them. There's usually more misery when you try to ignore or escape responsibility. Say your problem is one of health — then see your doctor and let him help you back to good health. Could be, there is nothing wrong with you after all. The visit to your doctor can be very reassuring!

Because walks in the fresh air pep up your circulation and help pick up your appetite, you should take advantage of fine spring weather, get outdoors. This is a quick way to get back into the swing of things and rid yourself of thoughts that promote rather than minimize the daily problems in every life. Walking outdoors will help you sleep better, and once your sleep improves your spirits will rise up again.

Take advantage of the revitalizing season at hand and let it do things for your beauty of mind and soul.

Pre-Easter Coffee Party Set

Women's Auxiliary to the Victoria Lions Club is planning a pre-Easter coffee party this Wednesday, from 11.30 a.m. to 1.30 p.m., at the home of Mrs. F. W. Grossmith, 2301 Lansdowne Road. Making final arrangements for the affair are Mrs. Grossmith, who is co-convener; Mrs. Cliff Rae, president of the auxiliary, and Mrs. David Ewing, convener.

Comfort Comes First in Shoes; Make Sure You Get Proper Fit

NEW YORK (NANA)—Millions of women currently are intent on getting themselves fashionably shod for Easter.

The Podiatry Society of New York State discovered in recent survey that about 80 per cent of women admitted they were regularly footsore. The first thing most of them did after they got home from the Easter parade they said, was to kick off their shoes.

The society maintains that most of this foot discomfort is unnecessary. Dr. Milton Wolfson, president of the society, figured a few tips on how to buy proper shoes might help reduce this largely unnecessary suffering.

Dr. Wolfson advises that you buy your new spring shoes in the afternoon, because most people's feet tend to swell or elongate during the course of a day of sidewalk pounding or shopping. A good fit early in the day may begin to pinch by cocktail time because your feet may be as much as a half-size bigger than in the morning.

"Most women don't know it," warns Dr. Wolfson, "but some people have one foot larger than the other. Another little-known fact is that your feet can be as much as half a shoe size smaller when you're sitting down than when you're standing up which is why some women make the painful mistake of buying shoes that turn out to be 'sitting down models'.

To avoid these shoe-buying pitfalls, the doctor urges that you have the sales clerk measure both your feet while you're in a standing position, and be fitted for the larger one. Then walk around the store in the shoes to check for comfort before you put your money down.

When you slip on a shoe, see that the widest part of the foot rests comfortably at the widest part of the shoe with about a half-inch between your longest toe and the tip of the shoe, and enough ease across the foot to permit the leather to be humped up slightly with your fingers.

The shoe is too short if you cannot curl or wiggle your toes freely and too narrow if your foot tends to press hard against the wall of the shoe and bulge over the sides.

Since fit is all-important, don't be misled by a sales clerk who informs you that your new shoes need breaking in, Dr. Wolfson adds. Shoes that have to be broken in are likely to break down your feet, and may result in a crop of corns, abrasions and other pedal troubles. Leave the store in shoes that feel as comfortable as you want them to be in a couple of months' time.

Groom Is Naval Officer

Dr. Shirley Gunn Weds at Honolulu

St. Andrew's Episcopal Cathedral, Honolulu, Hawaii, was the setting for the wedding of Dr. Shirley Adelaide-Marie Gunn and Lieut.-Cmdr. William Richard Richards, USN, on March 12. The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Wallace Gunn, 1251 Victoria Avenue, Oak Bay and the groom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Richards of Columbus, Ohio.

Rev. John Robert Jones officiated at the candlelight service before the altar decorated with white gladioli and palms.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of peach-toned satin embossed with pale blue and peach flowers, the fitted long torso bodice with wide oval neckline enhancing the full ballerina-length skirt.

Her shoulder-length peach veil was caught to a half hat fashioned of satin leaves and she carried a bouquet of white cattleya orchids intermingled with pale pink cymbidium orchids. An heirloom pendant which belonged to the late Mrs. T. K. Harrop, Victoria, was attached to the bouquet.

Mrs. Robert Madsen, matron of honor, wore a similarly styled gown of pale blue silk shantung. She carried a sheath of gold cymbidium orchids and wore matching orchids in her hair.

Lieut. Robert Madsen, USNR, was best man and Professor T. De Vries seated the guests.

Following the ceremony a garden reception was held at the home of Lieut. and Mrs. Madsen in Waikiki. Mrs. Louise Clark assisted the hostess and Dr. W. H. Civin proposed the bridal toast. The Hawaiian motif was carried out by a profusion of antheriums, touch ginger, shell ginger and other native flowers.

The bride, a former student at Oak Bay High School and Victoria College, graduated in Arts from UBC where she was affiliated with Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority. A graduate in elocution and drama of the Royal Conservatory of Music, Toronto, she also received her MD degree at the University of Toronto in 1953. Upon completing an internship at the Vancouver General Hospital, she accepted a residency in pathology at Queen's Hospital, Honolulu.

Lieut.-Cmdr. Richards is a graduate in geology from Ohio State University, where he received his Bachelor of Science degree. Since graduation he has been serving in the United States Navy.

'Way of the Cross' To Be Repeated At St. Barnabas'

A repeat performance of "The Way of the Cross' will be given this Palm Sunday evening following evensong at St. Barnabas' Anglican Church.

An unseen group of actors will present a dramatic re-enactment of the traditional Fourteen Stations of the Cross.

They will use a translated version of the work by the French playwright Henri Gheon. The idiom is modern, and the language bold.

A reciter introduces each Station, and two men and two women recreate the scene, playing in turn the various parts of onlookers and participants.

Organ music will be played between each scene, and the choir and congregation will join at the end of the presentation in the singing of a hymn.

The play was first presented at St. Barnabas' last year.

Left-Wing Hint Aimed at CBC

OTTAWA (CP)—A vague inference that there is a left wing influence in some talks and plays carried on the CBC was made Friday by a Social Credit member in the Commons broadcasting committee.

Rev. E. G. Hansell of Macleod said after a series of questions about Reuben Ship, Montreal writer who has sold two plays to the CBC.

"Some of us are very, very much concerned about the talks and plays that go over the air waves of Canada."

Mr. Ship, a Canadian citizen who was deported in 1953 by the United States on charges of having been a member of the Communist Party, is the writer of the controversial satire, "The Investigator."

PLAY "BOOTLEGGED"

The play, regarded as a take-off on the Communists in government investigations of U.S. Senator Joseph McCarthy, was originally produced in Canada last year. Since then, a "bootleg" recording of the radio production has been sold widely in the U.S.

Chairman A. D. Dunton of the CBC board of governors said the CBC judges scripts submitted to it and is responsible for the selection but it has no responsibility for the private lives of the writers.

Total of $4,334,000 Raised

United Church Fund Well Past Objective

The United Church of Canada surpassed its $4,250,000 campaign goal by $84,000, treasurer Rev. V. T. Mooney announced recently.

The $4,334,000, raised through the Missionary and Maintenance Fund, included contributions of $239,041 for food for the world's hungry.

During the year, Dr. Mooney said, the church received $217,935 in bequests.

Members of the church have contributed an increased sum—$150,000 over last year's donations to the Missionary and Maintenance Fund. Last year's donations totaled $3,859,580.

All 11 conferences of United Church showed an increase over the last year, Rev. George Williams, secretary of the fund reported. The 1956 goal is $5,000,000.

'Good Boy' is Highest Praise In Bing's Low-Key Lexicon

HOLLYWOOD (NANA) — After 20 years' exposure to frantic folks who explode superlatives in their most casual conversations, it sizes up as something of an eighth wonder that none of them has ever rubbed off on Bing Crosby.

Excitable Hollywood, never a town to describe something as "adequate" when "colossal" is hanging around doing nothing, has never been able to enlist Bing among its hey-hey converts in whose lexicon everything is "just the greatest" or, for variation, "fabulous."

Watching him as he returned this week to a Paramount stage to do "Anything Goes," after recuperating from major surgery, one is again impressed by his casualness and restraint in both speech and action.

Highest praise Bing can heap on a musician or actor is, "He's a good boy." Standing on the sidelines watching ballet dancer Jeanmaire and Mitzi Gaynor doing their acrobatic best for numbers in the musical, he gave forth his highest compliment: "Ain't that somp'in," and without an exclamation point.

Producer Robert Dolan reported that when he asked Bing what he thought of Donald O'Connor doing the role of his song-and dance sidekick in "Anything Goes," the crooner answered: "He's a good boy. Try to get him." Of his favorite singer of popular songs, Perry Como, Bing says: "He sings high and he sings low. He feels it. He's a good boy."

When Bing's own sons, for whom he lives, do something that pleases him greatly, he comments: "Good going." To his boys this is high praise indeed. Of Ella Fitzgerald, his favorite songbird, he says: "She sings purty. Good girl."

Bing's few close friends, those with him most, say they've never heard him sail into the upper stratosphere of Hollywood's purple prose and idiom. That's why, when he calls Donald O'Connor a "good boy," they know Bing means he's the best in the business.

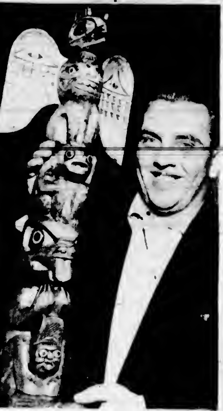
Historic Trip Marked



Victoria Elks presented a totem pole to Port Angeles Elks when they made Elkdom's first international visit this week. Doug Wilson was one of 60 Victorians who made the trip.

Return Visit Set

City Elks Feted In Port Angeles

Port Angeles BPO Elks, Naval Lodge No. 353, plans to return a visit by 60 members of Victoria Lodge No. 2.

The Victoria Elks made history when they went to Port Angeles. It was the first international visit ever made by a Canadian Elk lodge.

Port Angeles Elks feted the Victoria visitors Wednesday and Thursday, treated them to a crab feed and provided first-class vaudeville entertainment.

At a lodge meeting, Exalted Ruler Frank Barrie of Victoria presented a totem pole to Exalted Ruler Jack Erwin of Port Angeles who in turn presented the Victorians with a framed aerial view of Port Angeles.

Grand Exalted Ruler of Elkdom in Canada, Claude Howard, represented grand lodge on the visit and presented the Port Angeles exalted ruler with a key to the Victoria Elks' home.

Many Mourn W. J. Smith

Five generations are mourning the late W. J. Smith, 86, who died in England.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Julia Smith of Victoria, four sons, five daughters, 68 grandchildren, 38 great grandchildren and five great great grandchildren.

Born in England, Mr. Smith served with the Territorials in the Boer War. He came to Canada in 1911 and fought with the 88th Fusiliers in the First World War.

He returned to England after the war and resided there until his death at St. Thomas Hospital, Stockport. He was buried at Buxton.

Students' Operetta Colorful Production

BY BERT BINNY

A full house at Mount Douglas High School last night enjoyed the students' presentation of the operetta "The Pirate's Daughter."

There are about 160 students at this school and 92 of them were involved one way or another in this production. It was a highly co-operative effort and, in addition, it turned out to be beautifully staged and extremely colorful.

The name part was played by Marion Lilton. She had little to do but she did it well. A nice performance was also turned in by Arla Smalley as "Elsie."

Bonnie Irvine really shone as "Mrs. Schuyler," displaying a rare quality of theatrical sensitivity from the first curtain to the last.

Keith Lawrence as the pirate chief and David Allan as the worthy burgomaster also did some smart acting. The former in particular showed a keen sense of comedy.

A sextette consisting of three village maidens and three bold, bad pirates proved most engaging. Among the dancers, an unnamed girl in a yellow dress who participated in the dance in Act II, Scene I, was quite outstanding.

Mass "entrances" were well handled; some of the single entrances were late and cueing could have been smarter at times.

A delightful song by the worthy burgomaster and the chorus of villagers of Leydenkirk had as its burden how proud that gentleman was of his work. This may appropriately be lifted out of its context and applied to all concerned in this production.

"TREAD SAFELY"
Know the Answers About Goodyear Supercushion Retreads

QUESTION: How much mileage may I expect from retreaded Goodyear tires?

ANSWER: It depends on three factors—
1. The quality of the new tire.
2. The care you have given the tire.
3. The quality of the retreading.

With the VICTORIA TIRE factory-approved system we retread a good tire body time after time.

Volunteers Save Hall

Swift action by Central Saanich and Sidney and North Saanich volunteer fire departments saved the North and South Saanich Agricultural Society Hall at Saanichton from going up in flames last night.

Fire started from an overheated furnace while 30 badminton players were using the hall. John Webster, about 19, of Cultra Avenue, turned in the alarm and it was only a matter of minutes before firemen were on the scene.

Central Saanich Fire Chief Victor Heal said another two or three minutes delay and the whole building would have gone up. As it was, damage was confined to the wall around the furnace and amounted to about $400.

Society's president Albert Doney said the building is insured.

SATURDAY, APRIL 2, 1955

Today's quotation: "All the things I really like to do are either immoral, illegal or fattening." — Alexander Woollcott.

Saturday for everyone: Be as self-reliant as possible without giving offense. Cooperation of the right type will be difficult to secure, and the chances of friction or misunderstanding are great.

Look for your birthdate and birthsign below:

March 21 to April 19 (Aries) —Be patient if you don't have leeway in love, money, or other matters. Await safe opportunity before taking action.

April 20 to May 20 (Taurus) —Examine angles in fundamental issues; stay on a firm footing; adjust your affairs amicably.

May 21 to June 20 (Gemini) —Carry through customary activities; minimize travel, calls; think straight.

June 21 to July 22 (Cancer) —Give bankroll and assets the once over; they require some care, practical thought.

July 23 to August 22 (Leo)— Make actions, motives clear to others, put responsibilities before self-interest.

August 23 to September 22 (Virgo) — Engage in activities requiring minimum contact; complete tasks, carry through duties.

September 23 to October 22 (Libra)—Don't rely on pals or breaks in matters of any importance; verify appearances, plug up gaps.

October 23 to November 21 (Scorpio) — Leave elders and superiors no ground to be disgruntled; bolster status, use kid gloves.

November 22 to December 21 (Sagittarius)—Some confusion may prevail; hold major decisions in abeyance, don't be hasty. Use care in transit.

December 22 to January 19 (Capricorn)—Give transactions affecting possessions or financial ties with others an especially careful going over.

January 20 to February 18 (Aquarius) — Don't lean too heavily on others; harmonize differences, keep at customary routine.

February 19 to March 20 (Pisces) Try to make things go more smoothly on the scene or job; keep ideas pertinent, clear; employ tact, consideration.

Planning ahead — Good for entertainment, sociability, etc.: April 4 9, afternoon of 15, afternoon and evening of 15, 19.

BRIDGE QUIZ

How light should you keep the bidding open for partner's original one bid? With six points, say some authorities. With five, if you can raise, say others. In practice most experts bid if they can do so cheaply and with little risk of getting into trouble; they pass whenever a bid seems to be dangerous or not likely to serve any good purpose.

With neither side vulnerable, when partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes, what would you do with each of the following hands?

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

(a) Pass. Although you can show your spade suit at the one level and there is some chance that the hand will be better at a spade contract, game is unlikely and partner's rebid is quite apt to put you in greater trouble than if you pass the first time.

(b) Pass. Your diamond suit is good, but your hand is too weak to warrant bidding it at the two level and your strength is too greatly concentrated in the single suit to warrant a response of one no trump.

(c) Bid one spade. Although this hand is woefully weak, if you count the value of the singleton heart (which, of course, you can't do if hearts are trumps) it is worth six points. The idea of bidding with this hand is that if partner's next bid is anything but in hearts you will probably have improved the contract. If he rebids the hearts, at least you are assured that he has a strong suit and at worst you will be set an extra trick or two.

(d) Pass. This example is similar to (b) and requires no additional comment.

(e) Bid two hearts. Although you have only three trumps your hand offers some ruffing value. This is a case where a raise should be given with only five points, if only for its preemptive value against the makable contract the opponents probably have in spades.

(f) Pass. This kind of five-point hand offers no distributional advantages for a raise and isn't strong enough to bid one no trump. You will seldom miss a game with this hand, but will often cost your side a part score if your chance-giving bid finds partner with a pretty good hand on which game isn't possible but he is too greatly encouraged.

Cherie Lee Knox, a St. Patrick's Day baby, will see her daddy for the first time when HMCS Ontario ties up at HMC Dockyard at 10 a.m. today after a South Pacific cruise. Her mother, Anita Marie, will be there too, and her father, Reginald G. Knox, a cook, will be the only man aboard the cruiser to come home to a new baby. Relatives and friends of crew members and Venture cadets will be admitted to the dockyard. Parking space has been arranged on the parade square at HMCS Venture.

BIG SMELTER TO PRODUCE STEEL IN B.C.

Industry Beginning

British. European Interests Behind $100,000,000 Project

VANCOUVER (CP)—A new steel and cement industry for British Columbia involving an eventual expenditure of $100,000,000 by a group of British and European companies was announced here yesterday.

First stage in the giant development, announced by Dr. William K. Waller, includes establishment of the first steel smelter on the Canadian West Coast and a $7,000,000 cement plant at Chilliwack, 65 miles east of here.

Meanwhile, it was announced that a new process of heating steel ingots by electric induction was put into operation Friday at the Vancouver rolling mills of Western Canada Steel, Ltd.

C. D. Hobbs, president of Western Steel, said it was the first time the process had been used anywhere in the world for heating ingots for rolling. He said it would boost the plant's production to 70,000 tons a year from 40,000 tons and give a marked saving in fuel costs.

Dr. Waller, German-born British chemical engineer and a graduate of Cambridge, said the group he represents plans to build a steel smelter and rolling mills on the B.C. Coast.

He said final decision on the exact location of the plant had not yet been made but that it would be "up-coast" from Vancouver. The plant would cost $10,000,000 and have a capacity of 50,000 tons annually.

Dr. Waller said a start on the plant would be made in about a year and it would take from six to seven years to complete. Eventual expansion to 1,000,000 tons annually was planned and when completed would represent an investment of more than $100,000,000.

The steel project would be part of a widespread program of Waller companies, including cement manufacture by Anglo-Canadian Cement Distributing Co., Ltd., of Vancouver.

Expenditures of about $3,000,000 were planned for office buildings, apartments and two hotels in locations not yet decided on.

He said the building program will operate under the Waller Estates, Ltd., which has a $450,000 plant home-building project in the lush British Properties area on Vancouver's North Shore.

The industrialist said the steel plant is almost ready for shipment in sections from various European countries.

Dr. Waller said a considerable volume of the cement produced would be exported to Venezuela. Waller-owned ships of the Britannia Shipping Company will carry cement to the South American country and return with iron ore.

He did not identify the companies associated in the project, but said two principals of the group are Brig.-Gen. A. C. Critchley, Canadian-born London financier, and Hilary Marquand, former health minister in the British Labor government.

Boy Dies After Ordeal Under 10 Tons of Sand

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—A 13-year-old boy, trapped for 30 minutes under 10 tons of sand Friday night, died in spite of doctors' efforts to save him. A team of surgeons opened the boy's chest and massaged his heart in an effort to bring him back to life.

The boy, John Black, was buried in a 10-by-12-inch loading chute at the bottom of a sand hopper when he fell into it while playing with two companions.

He was pulled through the chute after police and firemen dug desperately for 30 minutes to free him.

He was rushed to hospital, where Dr. F. P. Scarfon and Dr. Ernest Beaugiet worked for more than an hour to try to revive him.

Cyprus Terror Flares

NICOSIA, Cyprus (Reuters) — Terrorists Friday night threw four grenades in a new outbreak of anti British attacks following 16 dynamite blasts earlier in the day.

Unidentified assailants threw a hand grenade at the Nicosia home of a colonel of the British Middle East office, and then escaped. The office helps and advises Middle East governments on health and development projects.

The grenade exploded on a veranda outside the house. No one was injured.

Another grenade smashed windows on a bus carrying British Army families but failed to explode.

Two more explosions followed — both apparently directed at the homes of Britons.

DYNAMITE STATION

The most serious of the day's earlier dynamite attacks struck the Cyprus radio station, two miles south of here. The station building's south wing was gutted by fire, but the station went on the air 3½ hours ahead of schedule.

Smaller damage was caused at the Wolseley Barracks, just outside the ancient walls of Nicosia, where Gen. Sir Charles Keightley's British Middle East headquarters are housed.

There were also explosions at the ports of Famagusta, Larnaca and Limassol. All the attacks were directed against government, police and British military installations.

Fears Reunification Try

Watch West German Army Tory Leader Warns House

OTTAWA (CP)—Opposition Leader Drew warned Friday night Germany should be watched closely so that it does not attempt reunification of West and East Germany by force.

He said in a Commons external affairs debate that allied staff officers should be continually assigned to the new German army so there is no redeployment of troops without the West being aware of what is going on.

He said German rearmament is a bold and necessary step and described French ratification of the Paris agreements as a great and challenging act of friendship.

But reunification of Germany was constantly in the minds of the Germans. East Germany would not support the Communist cause.

DANGER IN FORCE

Germans in Berlin were told of the "lost provinces." But only three of these provinces were in East Germany. The other six now were Polish or other territory. An attempt at German reunification by force thus might lead to war between Russia and the West.

He said he hopes democracy will emerge triumphant in Germany. But Western friendship should be augmented by frankness in pointing out issues when there is still time to face them.

At another point, he said the West won't preserve peace by horse trading with the Communists. The West would be no more able to buy off the Communists than it could Hitler in 1939.

At the afternoon sitting, Howard Green (PC, Vancouver Quadra) demanded that Canada play a more active part in defense in the Pacific area. He charged the government with "failing to give the Canadian people leadership" in facing the Pacific problem, adding that the greatest threat to peace is centred there.

GEORGE DREW

On the Far East, Mr. Drew said the United States is not defending Chiang Kai-shek but Formosa. The U.S. had decided that Formosa was an essential link in its defense chain.

"We'd keep our arguments on a saner basis if we bore that in mind," he said.

Mr. Drew added that he doubts that a war over Formosa would lead to a world conflagration. He had "real doubts" that Moscow would invite the destruction of Russia.

Mr. Green entered the Commons debate on foreign affairs to reiterate his stand, expressed for some time past, that Canada should become a member of defense groupings in the Pacific area.

"Today the greatest threat to civilization is in the Pacific," he said. There had been continuous armed aggression by Communists in the north Pacific area since the Korean war began in June, 1950. Yet there was no "protective fence" in the Pacific equivalent to the North Atlantic alliance.

He proposed that Canada work for an advocate formation of a protective grouping of Pacific countries similar to the NATO organization. Such a group would give Canada a voice in decisions made in the Far East, instead of being, as now, bound by the decisions of others.

Faure Favors Talks

MOSCOW (Reuters) French Premier Edgar Faure has told the newspaper Pravda he advocates Big Four talks, with certain safeguards, the Communist Party newspaper said yesterday.

Pravda says Faure also told one of its reporters he still firmly believes "there are no obstacles to the favorable development of Franco-Soviet relations" and is determined to press for closer trade and cultural relations between the two countries.

In a question-and-answer interview, the French premier described as a "very important positive fact" a recent statement by Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin favoring talks among Russia, the United States, Britain and France. He added such talks could be fruitful provided due account is taken of the security requirements of all the parties concerned.

Bulldozer Heaves Through

Road Opened at Last To Isolated Village

STE. CROIX DE LOTBINIERE, Que. (CP)—A heaving bulldozer pushed aside the last snowbank early Friday night, opening the road between Ste. Croix and Laurier Station for the first time since this village was locked in snow, 12 days ago.

Mayor Paul Biron said the nine-mile road, a vital link in supplying Ste. Croix with fuel and food, was still considered unsatisfactory for ordinary traffic.

"There's still quite a bit of snow left," he said. "But the heavy snow is finished."

The 1,500 villagers here were reduced to sharing fuel oil and food after three heavy storms struck the region within a week. The Ste. Croix-Laurier road has been closed since March 21.

In the last few days essential supplies have been brought in from St. Appolinaire, 10 miles away. Villagers were forced to go by car to nearby St. Antoine de Tilly and then by horse over a rough snow road to St. Appolinaire.

Earlier in the day mechanical trouble halted both the bulldozer and a snowblower that had been working around the clock since Tuesday morning on the road. Essential repairs were made to the bulldozer before it cleared the remaining sections of the road.

The Money Was Legitimate

Beware, Warned Disc Jockey's Bosses But His April Fool's Gag Was No Gag

HONOLULU (UP)—A shapely brunette in a bathing suit and red-white-and-blue top hat passed out 500 genuine $2 bills Friday to Honololans willing to take a chance on having an April Fool's hoax played on them.

It started when disc jockey J. Akuhead Pupules, whose real name is Hal Lewis, broadcast Friday morning what purported to be a shortwave announcement from Treasury Secretary George Humphrey in Washington. It said the U.S. has a tremendous surplus of $2 bills because of superstition attached to that denomination.

The broadcast said in order to stimulate the use of the $2 bill and reduce the stockpile, the surplus would be passed out in all U.S. cities with a population of 200,000 or more.

Lewis followed up the realistic sounding broadcast with a news release from the local treasury office stating the bills would be distributed from a booth in front of the Bank of Hawaii here to the first 500 callers between noon and 1 p.m.

Because of previous gigantic April Fool's Day jokes perpetrated by Lewis, his employees, the management of radio station KGU, warned the public not to listen to its top disc jockey and explained that its contract with him prohibits the management from censoring any of his material.

KGU's switchboard was swamped with calls from believers and non-believers immediately after the broadcast. Some callers said the announcement was an outright hoax, but one man said he had 11 children and asked if each could get a sample. A caller from the island of Maui said he thought the treasury department was unfair for distributing the money only in Honolulu.

But the believers were paid off in $2 bills when they called at the booth in front of the bank, fooling even 12 local sponsors of Lewis' program who ran advertisements in newspapers warning the public to watch for an April Fool's Day trap.

Last year Lewis incurred the displeasure of the internal revenue department by broadcasting Hawaii's 1953 income taxes had been refunded because of the failure of Congress to approve statehood for Hawaii. That broadcast touched off a spending spree on the part of many listeners who anticipated refunds from the government.

Alberni Wins Opener

Alberni Athletics, seeking the Canadian men's basketball championship and the honor of representing Canada in the Olympic Games at Melbourne next year, took a big step toward their goal last night at Alberni when they defeated Edmonton Towne Hallers 81-69, in the first game of the Western Canada final.

Led by Don Bissett, who scored 22 points, British Columbia champions decisively outplayed the Edmonton team. Towne Hallers had eliminated Winnipeg Paulins, who defeated the Athletics last year on the way to the Dominion title.

Athletics trailed only once in the game, by 2-0. They used their fast break to advantage and held their bigger opponents well in check with a stern defense. A capacity crowd of about 1,300 packed the Alberni gymnasium to the rafters.

GAME TONIGHT

Second game of the best-of-five series is scheduled for tonight and the third game for Monday night. The other games, if needed, will be played Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

Qualified Approval

Pearson in Favor Of Soviet Exchange

OTTAWA (CP)—A Soviet invitation to Canada to send a group of parliamentarians to Russia received qualified approval Friday in the Commons from External Affairs Minister Pearson and Opposition Leader Drew.

The invitation had its beginnings February 9 in the Soviet parliament where a declaration was read which included a suggestion for exchange visits of parliamentarians from Russia and the Western powers.

Mr. Pearson disclosed in a television broadcast Thursday night that Moscow's formal invitation later was transmitted to Ottawa. When the Commons met Friday, John Diefenbaker (PC, Prince Albert) asked about the matter.

Mr. Pearson indicated the invitation will be studied by all members of parliament before a decision is made.

Mr. Pearson said:

"So far as this government is concerned, it has been our constant view that there is a continuing need for contacts between the Soviet Union and the non-Communist world.

"It is not we who have lowered the Iron Curtain; and we would welcome opportunity, I am sure, for genuine, as distinguished from propaganda, contacts between peoples and between their parliamentary representatives.

"We could have wished, I think that the declaration in question might have been couched in language less reminiscent of the too-familiar propaganda line uttered by Soviet representatives at official conferences and disseminated through their less official channels outside . . .

"There is need for us, I think, to be cautious, but not necessarily to turn a deaf ear to the suggestion which has been advanced."

Mr Drew said:

"The more opportunity there is of movement back and forth across the curtain—under appropriate assurance of return—the better it will be for everyone."

Boy's Quarrel with Family Ends in Shooting of Three

PASCO, Wash. (AP)—A 16-year-old outsize high school youth wound up a violent family quarrel Friday by shooting his fleeing father and grandfather and killing a policeman sent to subdue him.

The 200-pound youth was identified as Richard Peterson. Victims of the 15-minute reign of terror were Pasco patrolman Alva A. Jackson, 38, who died of head wounds; Richard's father, P. H. Peterson, 52, and maternal grandfather, Chet Young, 63.

The older Peterson was listed as in critical condition with a rifle wound in the back. The grandfather was in fair condition with buckshot injuries in the legs.

Police Chief A. L. McKibbin said the quarrel started when the youth returned from school and announced he was planning a trip in his car during next week's school vacation.

The quarrel grew violent and the father ran from the house to call police.

Halfway across the street, McKibbin said, Peterson was struck in the back by a rifle shot. Another pistol was emptied in the direction of the fleeing grandfather.

These shots missed but a shotgun blast at Young felled him.

Police said young Peterson then fled to a nearby residence where he obtained another pistol. Patrolman Jackson entered this place and was near the youth when struck in the chest and mouth by pistol shots. He died later in hospital.

Other officers subdued the youth.
